Election Probe Under Way Here

Registered Residence Listings Under Scrutiny by City Clerk

By PEYTON CANARY

A thorough check of voters registered in Palm Springs Councilmanic District No. 6 was under way today following protests of "irregularities" in registered residence listings.

NEWS in BRIEF

PORTLAND (UPI) — Search planes and ground crews braved snowstorms today to check out reports indicating a Navy bomber with 10 Californians aboard may have crashed in the rugged Mt. St. Helens area north of here.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Diplomats predicted an overwhelming rejection by the Security Council today of Cuba's demand for an international court review of its expulsion from the Organization of American States.

The council scheduled a windup of the 10-day debate with statements by Soviet Ambassador Platon D. Morozov and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — The French army clashed with French civilian extremists in open warfare in Algiers today with bazookas, mortars, machine guns and Molotov cocktail bombs.

Flashes of searing gunfire lit up the pre-dawn sky. Moslems cowering in their homes dubbed the fierce action "the white night." There was no immediate report of casualties.

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Elimination of duty-free zones on the U.S. border was proposed in a resolution presented at Thursday's session of the annual congress of the National Confederation of Industrial Chambers.

The initiative came from the regional chamber of the shoe manufacturing industry in Guadalajara, whose products compete with goods imported from the United States without duty.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Military Sea Transport Service planned to take action at noon today to move military cargo tied up by the West Coast maritime strike, if opposing sides in the 8-day-oil dispute fail to make arrangements for such ships.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Former municipal judge Lynn W. Johnston, cleared Thursday of the last of four "leniency for love" bribery charges, announced he would be a candidate for the California Senate.

It was reported the probe was undertaken because of voter reaction to a letter from District Attorney William O. Mackey regarding approximately 200 voters.

City Clerk Shirley Henry told the Desert Sun that she had obtained the list of 200 voters whose residence listing on district registrations has been questioned from councilmanic candidate Mrs. Kathryn Price.

Mackey suggested to The Desert Sun today that the list be obtained from Mrs. Price. He emphasized that the list given him was "not an official list," and that there was "nothing certain about it."

Mackey said that his office "couldn't go check each individual person listed." He indicated that he had received the list from the county clerk's office.

The district attorney wrote a letter March 12 to each of the persons on the list. The letter stated his office had received "a list of irregularities" in the residence of individuals as voters in the various Palm Springs precincts, and continued that the recipient of the letter was on the list.

The letter stated it brought the listed residence addresses to the recipients' attention so that "you can correct your home address."

Some Queries

The city clerk's office has received some inquiries from voters on the list who affirmed that they actually live in where registration lists indicate. Included, according to informal reports, were an apartment house and a trailer court.

Mackey told The Desert Sun he had received "some letters" from persons on the list indicating that their address was correct, and asking what was expected from them.

Apprehension

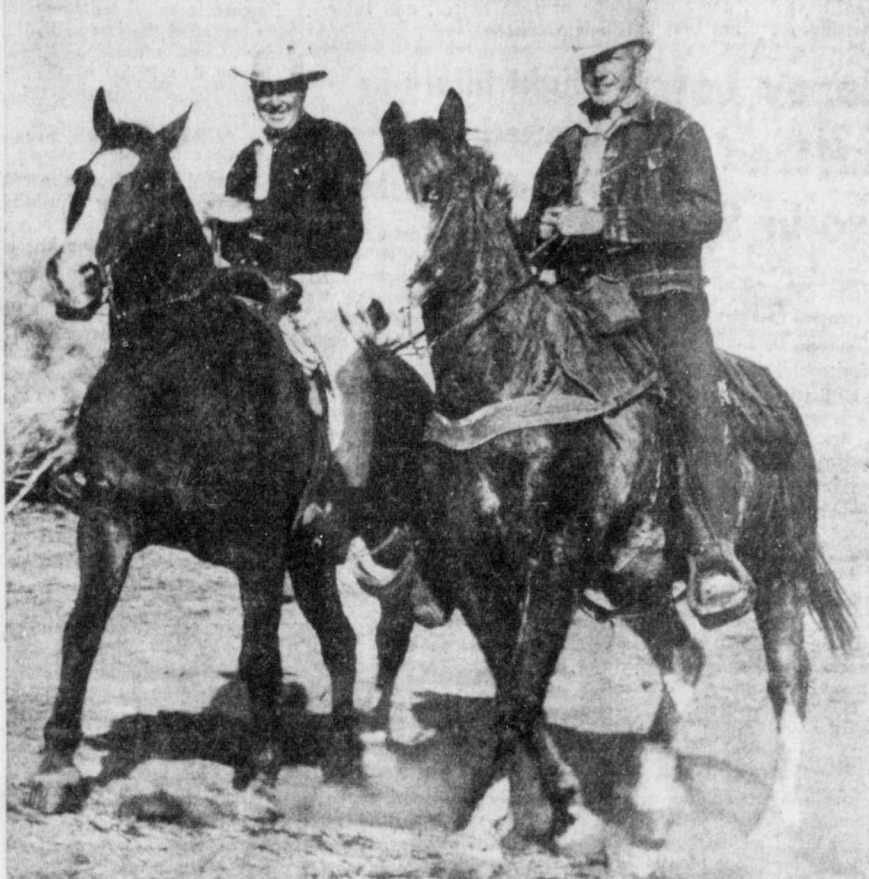

"Those persons whose address is proper will know it," Mackey said. He emphasized that "spot checks had been made."

Disturbed voters whose registrations were reportedly correct, but differed from city directory residence listings had expressed some apprehension about the possibility of a challenge of their votes, even though the home addresses listed District Six precinct record are correct.

Mrs. Price and Ray Hiller are campaigning for incumbent District 6, Councilman George Beebe's council seat. The matter goes to the voters in the April 10 special city election.

HELP HIGHWAY BUILDING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States recently made a $2 million contribution to a project to provide a highway to join northern Panama to Colombia, thus making it possible to drive from Alaska to the southern tip of South America.

ENDURANCE RIDE chairman Boo Hoff, right, and helper Bill Menne head back to the stable from two-days work marking the trail. The 25-mile endurance ride, a Desert Circus event, will begin at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Polo Grounds.

Ban Talks 'Paralyzed By Russia'

GENEVA (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today accused Russia of paralyzing the test ban talks in apparent preparation for more atmospheric nuclear blasts to satisfy "military needs."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko lashed back with a charge that the American test series scheduled to begin next month in the Pacific constituted an act of "aggression." He said it would set back efforts to halt the nuclear arms race.

The comparative calm prevailing thus far at the 17-nation General Disarmament Conference was shattered abruptly when the foreign ministers of the two nuclear giants took the floor to exchange sharp charges of bad faith.

Rusk spoke first, appealing to Russia to reverse its stand before the United States was forced to begin its new tests. But he acknowledged he saw "no hope."

The secretary said the United States could never again afford to risk free world security by accepting an unprompted moratorium or agreement such as the one Russia shattered last fall with its massive series of blasts.

Gromyko denied the existence of a moratorium last fall and said Russian tests were in reaction to earlier Western nuclear experiments.

He renewed Soviet charges that the West's proposal for inspection to police a ban was simply "international espionage under the guise of international control."

New School Plan Hit at Meeting

Charges that Williams and Williams architectural plans for the new Palm Springs Unified School District administrative center were "over designed" were made minutes before the district board approved the plans and call for bids on the estimated $281,300 job Thursday.

Williams told the board that the district may have trouble finding construction money for the project, if bids come in over his own estimates. Williams estimated $250,000 construction costs, plus $30,000 of other costs, including $20,000 for architects and engineering services.

Long Presentation
The authorization for bid calls followed a protracted presentation by architect Stewart Williams in which he related the state Division of Architecture praised the engineering of his plan. Williams emphasized to the board that the state sides check for over design as well as design under the state standards.

District Inspector John Wesley Graham told the board that the plan "was not" the most economical design the architect could have come up with, and this to the tune of $35,000 to $40,000.

"Redundancy"
Graham continued that the plans "embodied redundancy."

Graham reported that the state Division of Architecture, charged with approval of all school construction plans does not seek to limit top standards, but merely ensure its own safety standards. He cited article five of Title 21 of the State Education Code which specifies that the state architectural check will not limit "ingenuity" of the designer or prevent adoption of higher standards by districts.

Probe Asked
Stewart Williams called for an investigation to answer what he termed "charges" brought by Graham.

Board member Dr. Bernard Poliak conceded that the Graham's statements should be investigated, but emphasized that he had "no doubt of the integrity and ability of the Williams firm." Poliak made the motion for approval of the plans and the call for bid.

Board President Berton Lamb, a general building contractor, said the board had named a subcommittee including Lamb himself — to study the charges. Lamb said the board group was satisfied the issue was difference of opinion, and that Williams' plan was reasonable. He cited use of a six-inch concrete slab instead of four to accommodate movable partitions without special re-enforcement on narrow grids.

Stockpiling Probe Plan Gets Push

New Path Open On Information

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators, their path cleared to new information by presidential order, today pushed plans for an investigation of the nation's $7.7 billion strategic stockpile.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said he might have a statement today regarding the investigation by his subcommittee, expected to open soon.

Symington praised President Kennedy for his action Thursday removing secrecy from 12 major items in the stockpile. The information would include the amount by which supplies in the stockpile exceed actual wartime needs.

Kennedy's action was taken at Symington's request, and the senator intends to take up the 12 items first in his hearings.

The President asked Symington to make the investigation after telling a Jan. 31 news conference that he found the size of the stockpile astonishingly large. Kennedy said the stores of such things as aluminum and nickel were a potential source of unobtainable profits.

The materials which will be stripped of secrecy are aluminum, metallurgical grade chrome, cobalt, copper, lead, metallurgical grade manganese, molybdenum, nickel, rubber, tin, tungsten and zinc.

The information to be made public will include the current maximum and minimum goals, the present stock and the excess amount of each to be given in dollars and units.

Symington said the 12 products represented three-fourths of the stockpile both in quantity and value.

E. German Police Attack On U.S. Auto Protested

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States waited today for a Soviet reply to a strong protest against an armed attack by East German police on an official U.S. Army automobile.

The East Germans opened fire with machine pistols Tuesday night on a Russian-licensed U.S. Army sedan on an official mission near Gotha, 160 miles southwest of Berlin.

The bullets hit the trunk and a tire, but the U.S. Army major and his enlisted driver were not injured.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said Thursday night in Washington that U.S. military

Police Expect Airport Throng To Greet JFK

With their fingers crossed on weather developments resort area leaders today were rushing final details for a hearty welcome for President John F. Kennedy on his arrival at Palm Springs Airport tonight.

And although city officials had pointed out that the President was coming here for a weekend of rest and relaxation and had officially asked that this wish be respected, police and Secret Service agents were making preparations to handle a crowd of major proportions at the airport.

Complicating the preparations was a report that bad weather along the Pacific Coast might bring cancellation of a visit scheduled for Mr. Kennedy at Vandenberg Air Force Base.

This could bring the President here as early as 4 or 4:30 p.m.

Stick to Schedule

However, it was disclosed that this was a decision that would await weather reports at the time Mr. Kennedy's big jet plane was ready to leave the Berkeley area, about 3 p.m. or shortly later.

West Coast Secret Service Chief Guy Spayman told The Desert Sun that until notified otherwise preparations would continue for the arrival of the President here between 7 and 7:30 p.m.

Mayor Frank Bogert is scheduled to head a delegation of four local officials who are to greet Mr. Kennedy as he steps from his plane.

May See Eisenhower

Following this brief greeting the schedule calls for the President to step directly into a car for the ride to the secluded home of singer Bing Crosby at Palm Desert.

Sometime over the weekend, it was highly probable that Kennedy would meet with his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower and his wife have spent the winter at the Eldorado Country Club in Palm Desert, a little more than 20 miles south of Palm Springs where the White House staff will be based during Kennedy's visit.

Kennedy planned to remain in the Palm Springs area until late Sunday night, when he will depart on his return trip to Washington.

SECRET TALKS RECESSED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secret talks between the Dutch and Indonesians over New Guinea have been recessed. A brief communiqué said the talks, held near here, were recessed to allow the representatives to consult their governments.

E. German Police Attack On U.S. Auto Protested

authorities had filed a strong protest with the Russians "against his irresponsible and highly dangerous action by the East German police."

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of U.S. forces in Germany, was believed to have lodged the American protest with his Soviet counterpart, Marshal Ivan Konev.

It was the second time in less than two weeks that East German police had shot up a Western Allied mission vehicle accredited by Russian forces in Germany.

Communist police riddled a British military mission automobile outside Berlin March 10, seriously wounding the driver.

JFK Hails Outlook of Freedom

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — President Kennedy said today that mankind can look with new confidence toward a world which will "irresistibly burst the bonds" of communism and offer freedom as its goal.

In an address prepared for delivery before an expected audience of 85,000 at the University of California, Kennedy also hailed the prospect of Soviet-American cooperation in space exploration as a possible step toward collaboration in other areas of learning.

"It offers us an area in which the sterile, sterile dogmas of the cold war can be left literally a quarter of a million miles behind," Kennedy said at the University's Charter Day ceremony. The President and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara received honorary degrees.

The major burden of Kennedy's speech was to urge optimism for freedom's future despite short-term crises, frustrations and setbacks which seem to give communism the upper hand. He cited the Communist world's own problems as evidence.

"An Optical Illusion"
"The short view gives us the impression as a nation of being shoved and harried, everywhere on the defense," Kennedy said. "But this impression is surely an optical illusion."

The President said that from Moscow's perspective "the world today may seem even more troublesome, intractable and frustrating than it does to us."

He said Communist leaders are "not only confronted by acute internal problems in each Communist country—the failure of agriculture, the rising discontent of the youth and the intellectuals, the demands of technical and managerial groups for status and security."

They are confronted in addition by profound divisions within the Communist world itself—divisions which have already shattered the image of communism as a universal system guaranteed to abolish all social and international conflicts," he asserted.

The President insisted that "wisdom requires the long view."

Era of Independence
"And the long view shows that the revolution of national independence is a fundamental fact of our era," he said. "This revolution cannot be stopped... and it is in our own national interest that this revolution of national independence succeed."

The President said that "as new nations emerge from the oblivion of centuries" their deepest hope is to affirm their identity according to their own traditions and ideals, and following the pursuit of knowledge."

DOWN PALM CANYON AT 10

Big Parade Tomorrow Morning

From Yankee calvary to jet jockies, approximately 200 entries will swing southward in sharp cadence at 10 a.m. Saturday on Palm Canyon Drive, in the 26th Desert Circus parade.

Pacing the two-hour parade will be the Marine Corps color guard and band from Twentynine Palms, followed by the Los Angeles Mounted Police Posse under the direction of Sheriff Peter Pitchess.

Musical Grand Marshal Frankie Laine will ride the route on horseback, followed by antique car-borne Louella Parsons Queen of the 1962 Desert Circus. Desert Circus President Edgar L. McCoubrey will follow with William Clark, Illinois attorney general. The "Land of Lincoln" state is being saluted in this Desert Circus.

Antique cars will carry such diverse paraders as High Sheriff Harry Chaddick and special deputies Tony Cosentino and Dom De Rosa, and the Air Force Thunderbird pilots. The super-sonic aerial acrobats will display their prowess Sunday for their only spring appearance in southern California.

Aviatrice Mrs. Jacqueline Cochran Odium will display a replica of Mary Todd Lincoln's original White House New Year's ball gown.

Kangaroo Court Judge Larry Finley will be aided by a bevy of Queen and Miss Riverside County, Linda Strangman, Date Festival Queen and Miss Riverside County, will reign with her entire court.

Riders will range from Mexican charros to bareback Ballerina Ardi Diemere, who will stand on her horse "Shamrock" the full length of the parade.

Marching units will range from assorted school and western groups to the Sherman Indian Band of Arizona. The band includes boys and girls from the Mohave, Apache, Navajo, Pima, and Papago tribes.

A total of 23 marching units will cover the parade route from Tachavah Drive to Ramon Road.

Fourteen public address systems will be strategically placed along the parade route. Among those announcing and their stations will be Mac McDonald, Desert Inn; Jimmy Cooper, Doll House; Frank Bogert, across from Bullocks; Howard Haddock, Thrifty; KDES, Sales Market; Tom Kieley, Curtis and Kieley and Don Bortoff, Desert Circus office. Other announcers will be Alex Alexander, Hoby Runkles and Warren Coble.

First Lady Arrives in Rawalpindi

By PATRICK J. KILLEN
RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy arrived in Rawalpindi a couple of hours late today because she had spent a hectic day attending a horse show twice, a fashion show and a formal banquet.

President Kennedy's wife arrived wearily to her suite at the West Pakistan governor's mansion shortly after midnight following one of her busiest days since her goodwill tour of India and Pakistan began 11 days ago.

Today Mrs. Kennedy was to attend a Pakistan Day reception at President Mohammad Ayub Khan's house.

Pakistan Day roughly corresponds to America's Fourth of July and commemorates the 22nd anniversary of the meeting of Muslim League party members when they passed a resolution demanding a separate state for India's Muslims.

Mrs. Kennedy had one of the fullest and most enjoyable days of her trip Thursday when she received a magnificent bay gelding as a present from President Ayub at a horse show and then visited the beautiful Shalimar Gardens.

Family Exposed To Meningitis Still Sought

EL CENTRO — Glenn F. Brady, 21-year-old laborer whose entire family is thought to have been exposed to spinal meningitis, reportedly made contact with the state employment office here Thursday, seeking work.

Brady, accompanied by his 18-year-old wife, Edna, and their 14-month-old daughter, Glenda, was reportedly en route from Sacramento to Tolleson, Ariz.

An all-points-bulletin was issued for the family early Thursday, after state health officials learned that a niece of Brady's had died Sunday from spinal meningitis, and another child in the family was seriously ill in a Shasta hospital.

Officers in the desert areas of Riverside county have joined in the close search for Brady. Officials want to give the family medical care, to determine whether or not the dread disease may be in the incubation stage in some of the family members.

TRIPLES FILMING SPEED

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Since the law only permits the filming of tiny babies for 30 seconds at a time, Eddie Saeta, assistant director of "The Interns" conceived the idea of hiring triplets to speed up the shooting schedule.

"HIKE 'EM," says the gal deputies of the Palm Springs Desert Circus, and members of Tony Rose's orchestra at the Tennis Club do with glee. The girls raided all spa night spots last night, hailing all offenders of the unwritten law for Western dress to kangaroo court. Yep! The gals carry guns, and they have received severe warning not to pop any of them—blanks or caps—during the President's arrival tonight. The gals of the Secret Service men, it seems, come out quick at such noises, and their cartridges are not blank. (PS NewsPhoto)

French Fighters Fire Warning Shots at OAS

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — ret Army Organization terrorists fighting French soldiers and police in a suburb of the city.

At least four fighter planes fired warning shots over the Bab-El-Oued European district as full-scale street fighting pitted Frenchmen against Frenchmen in Algiers, and commandos of the outlawed OAS briefly seized control of various sections of the city.

Heavy casualties were reported. Military sources said that by mid-afternoon about 40 French soldiers had been "put out of action" in Bab-El-Oued since this morning. This included soldiers killed, wounded and captured.

Today's battling marked the first time that French army draftees had taken part in any large-scale fighting with the French population of Algeria, which is battling to keep this territory French and upset the cease-fire pronounced earlier this week.

Andreas, Welmas Facing Charges

John Damon Andreas, 21, of Andreas Camp, Palm Springs, Thursday entered a not guilty plea in Desert Municipal Court here, on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

Andreas was charged with participating in a Tuesday assault on Jesse Camp, 37, who was cut and beaten in the 100 Block of East Amado Road.

Albert Richard Welmas, 28, 390 Calle Encillia, was due for preliminary hearing in Desert Municipal Court today on the same charge.

Chamber Organizational List Announced by Curtis

The complete organizational list for the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce was announced by President N. H. "Toby" Curtis following endorsement by the elective board of appointed members and committee assignments.

The executive staff under Curtis includes Edgar L. McCoubrey, first vice president; Carl Schoons, second vice president; Joel Stone, treasurer.

Board members are Don Fru of Desmond's; Norm Lofthus, KDES; Dr. William Elliott, Herb Samson, Security First National Bank; Jim Schlecht, attorney; Francis Crocker, California Electric; Harold West, Bank of America; Dewey Metzendorf, Oasis Hotel; Leo Baker, Cantina Imports; Fred Ingram, Bank of America; Frank Bennett, Translator; Milton F. Kreis, restaurant; Sherman Dickinson, Sunset Towers.

Appointive directors are Sam Black, Retail Merchants Association; Isabelle Cameron, Realty Board; Robert J. Cordes, Contractors Association; George Ribley, Employers Association; and Charles Kasmer, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Money Loss Suffered by Two in Spa

A possible painless $1,000 loss was reported to Palm Springs police Thursday by Dorothy B. Weiler, Springfield, Mo., guest of El Mirador Hotel.

The $1,000 was in $100 denomination Bank of America traveler's checks. The checks can only be cashed with the Weiler's signature, and may be redeemed by the issuing bank on notification of loss. Each of the 10 checks is separately numbered.

Not so fortunate was Mrs. Beverly Fretz, 39, of 475 N. Cerritos Drive. Mrs. Fretz told police that three of the five $100 bills she had put away in a dresser drawer were missing Thursday.

Mrs. Fretz explained she had cashed a $500 Christmas Gift check approximately March 1. She put the money in a dresser drawer for safe keeping, checked it 10 days later and found all the bills. The missing $300 may have been taken anytime in the past 10 or 12 days, Mrs. Fretz reported.

Slight Injury in Cathedral City Two-Car Mishap

A two-car mishap occurred this morning at 7:45 o'clock on Wonder Palms Road east of Highway 111 at Cathedral City involving vehicles driven by Moe Morton, 58, of 2809 Wymann Place, Palm Springs, and Cecil W. Kizer, 29, Cathedral City.

According to the California Highway Patrol neither driver received serious injury, although Morton encountered a cut on top of his head and was sent to the Desert hospital for treatment.

Both automobiles received minor damage and no citations were issued.

End of Phase in Modesto's Trial

RIVERSIDE (UPI)—The prosecution at the murder trial of Lawrence Modesto hopes to rest its case early next week after completion of testimony about a tape-recorded confession the suspect made.

Modesto, 31, was arrested at his Martinez Indian Reservation home after the bludgeoned body of Mary Mack, 9, was found in her Hundred Palms home last Oct. 29. The body of her sister, Connie, 12, was found in a storm drain. Both had been beaten with a sledge hammer.

Deputies from the Riverside Sheriff's office substitution at Indio have testified about taking Modesto into custody and finding his hands and clothing bloodstained.

Further technical testimony has been presented the jury in the Superior Court of Judge Russell Waite by Ray Pinker of the Los Angeles Police Department Crime Laboratory.

Mrs. Melba Fern Mack, mother of the victims, testified Thursday she returned home from the cafe where she and her husband, Claude Ardell are musicians, and found Mary's body on the kitchen floor.

Mrs. Mack said Modesto had ordered a round of drinks at the cafe for the band, then was unable to pay for them. She said when she paid for the drinks, Modesto left in evident embarrassment.

THOUSAND PALMS — The Thousand Palms Democratic Club was well represented Sunday, at the Riverside County Democratic Council meeting for endorsement of candidates on the state ticket. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wallace, Mr. Harland Maingold, Mrs. Elva Woodside, Walter Rice, Miss Eve Finson and Mrs. Minnie Bauseman.

Joseph Palaia, candidate for state assemblyman will be with the Thousand Palms Democratic Club at a meeting tonight at the home of the president, Harland Maingold on San Miguelito Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. John Helliker, parents of Mrs. Joan Fitch on Desert Moon Drive, have moved into their new home on Monte Vista. They came to the desert from Chicago, Ill., about six months ago and lived with their daughter until their new home was ready.

Mrs. Emery of Hidden Springs is entertaining a friend Mrs. Louie Felsheim of Bandon Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lau of Shelter Drive are spending this weekend with a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Covington and three sons in La Habra.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thomas have returned from a fast flying trip of brief stop-overs with their family. The first stop was at Corona Del Mar to visit a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Winship. The next stop was to see a sister Mrs. Rachel Utterback at Gardena, and the third was to visit another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Patterson in Whittier. To climax their trip, they stopped in Yucaipa to visit a grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Patterson, where they became acquainted with a great-grandson, Leslie.

A car load of women from Thousand Palms attended the Community Concert at Coachella High School.

Soprano Pierrette Alarie and tenor Leopold Simoneau were enjoyed by Elizabeth Nelson, Eve and Mary Finson, Johnnie Nelson and Judi Bisbee.

ONE OF FOUR of next season's Community Concert Association programs for Palm Springs is the famed Pachelbelian musicians from Greece. The brilliantly costumed group, on its first American tour, presents music, dance and song that run the gamut from Epic and Homeric vein to nostalgic of haunting beauty from hardy mountaineer ballads to the songs used as background music for several recent movies. Season ticket sales for the local concert group close Saturday.

DESERT HOT SPRINGS

Writer Spends Weekend Here

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Mrs. Joseph Van Such of Hollywood, who writes professionally under the name of Frances A. Rockwell, spent the past weekend here as the guest of the A. L. Eatons. Her book, "Modern Fiction Techniques," will be published in June by Writers, Inc. Accompanying Mrs. Van Such was Mrs. William Caldwell whose husband a former official in the state department, is now teaching at UCLA.

Also staying at the Eaton home is Eaton's sister-in-law of Wendell, Idaho, who is making her first visit to Desert Hot Springs.

Mrs. Cameron Gage of Burlington, Canada, flew in from Las Vegas last week where she had been attending a law convention with her husband, to spend a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stevens before returning home.

The first forum on youth problems held by teenagers and adults under the sponsorship of the Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Community Church on Sunday night was so successful that a series of such forums is being planned. Members of the panel were Mrs. Edward Jacobson, Stone Wright Jr., Susie Wertz and "Butch" Prosky. Rev. Archie Matson was the moderator.

Hermosa Bans Jinrickshaws

HERMOSA BEACH (UPI)—City Councilmen here have turned down a new mode of transportation for the town—rickshaws. Pearl Porterfield requested a license to operate a rickshaw along the town's beachfront street. Purchasing agent James Weber said he could find nothing in the licensing laws for rickshaws. But the Council invoked a 1923 law which prohibited bicycles and other such vehicles on the beachfront street to kill the proposal. Members said they feared for the safety of pedestrians.

from a five month tour of the Orient. Mrs. Weiss will visit her granddaughter and grandchildren in Yuma, Ariz., for several weeks before re-opening her Cholla Gardens home here.

Lee Van Camp of Oscoda, Mich., flew in this past week to be with his mother, Mrs. Tom Moon, during the illness of his step-father, Tom Moon.

Mrs. Earl Farmer entertained 45 friends at luncheon and cards at the Highlander Restaurant last Wednesday. Mrs. Julius Mattheisen won first prize at canasta, with Mrs. Gilbert Holloway being declared winner in bridge and canasta were awarded to Mrs. Joseph Lukomski and Mrs. Charles Markell.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Farmer's sisters, Mrs. Leone Ring of Vista and Mrs. Thomas K. Vail of Gardena and Mrs. Rosemary Upgren of St. Paul, Minn.

Artist Nota Koslowsky and his wife returned to their home in Chicago on Sunday after spending the winter at the Palmer Lodge with Mrs. Koslowsky's sister and brother-in-law, the Sam Bergers. While here Koslowsky spent much time preparing for his one-man exhibition which will be held May 6-20 at the Board of Jewish Education in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Speakers to Discuss Hillel

A special meeting in honor of the Hillel Foundation will be held Tuesday night at the Palm Springs Jewish Community Center, according to H. M. Frankel, president of the local chapter of B'nai B'rith. The session will start at 8 p.m.

Speakers at his meeting will be two students from the Hillel Foundation chapter at the University of California at Riverside, which is partly financed by the local B'nai B'rith.

The two are Edward Lessin of Los Angeles, past president of Hillel at Riverside; and Miss Esther Strauch, of San Francisco, current president of the chapter.

Chairman of the evening's program will be Dr. Frank Schaffell, Hillel chairman for the B'nai B'rith Miss Strauch, who spent a year in Israel will talk on her experiences there and also entertain with Israeli folk songs. Lessin, who is a senior philosophy student at the UC campus, will report on the activities of Hillel at the school.

Fighting in S. Viet Nam Increasing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fighting against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam has assumed much larger proportions in recent months, a Defense Department spokesman said today.

A defense spokesman said recent arguments have involved groups of 150 to 300 red guerrillas compared with groups of about 50 insurgents in earlier battles. He said this means that more of the insurgents are being killed. He said that after one engagement American observers counted 60 insurgent dead.

The spokesman cited the figures in discussing Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's latest trip to Honolulu to confer with U.S. Pacific military and aid officials on the situation in South Viet Nam.

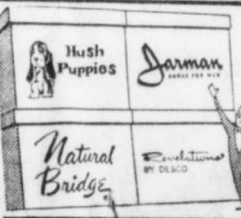

The Army - Navy - Air Force Journal and Register meanwhile reported that Marine Corps aviators, mainly helicopter pilots, soon will be sent to South Viet Nam. U.S. Army helicopter units are already operating there.

The defense spokesman said he did not mean to imply that a turning point had been reached in the South Viet Nam fighting.

Springs Parking Code Approved by Planners

The Palm Springs Planning Commission has approved a proposed new off-street parking code draft, with minimum changes developed during its public hearing.

Under the code proposed, single family residence and trailer zone requirements for off-street parking will be higher than space requirements for R-2 and R-3 zones. Separate provisions are made for dancing, dining, and bar areas.

Residences
Proposed are two off-street parking spaces for each single family residence, and two for each trailer space. One of the off-street spaces for trailer areas may be away from the trailer site.

R-2 limited multiple residence, and R-3 hotel and apartment zone.

Daylight Time May Pass Us By

If proposals before the state legislature meet success, Daylight Saving Time may slip right by Sept. 30 this year without hesitating.

There is a proposal on the Nov. 6 ballot to extend Daylight Time in California through the month of October.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, has prepared a measure to transfer this proposition from the November ballot to the June 5 primary ballot.

To Keep State in Line
If he succeeds, voters will decide the issue in time to be effective this year. If the proposal remains on the November ballot and is favored, the extension of Pacific Daylight Time, PDT, will not be effective until 1963.

Extension of Daylight Time through October is designed to keep California in step with the East coast and the Midwest. New York and Chicago have been on Sunlight through October for several years.

Generally, California is three hours behind New York and two hours behind Chicago. In October, however, for the past few years, the state has been four hours behind New York and three behind Chicago.

Effective This Year
Should the legislature favor Assemblyman Bagley's plan and move the election up to June 5 and if extension of Daylight Time is successful at the polls, October Sunlight will be effective in 1962 and the time difference between the areas will be in line throughout the year.

Californians will set their time pieces up one hour on the last Sunday in April (April 29) and set them back an hour on the last Sunday in October (Oct. 28).

Outside of the agricultural counties, Daylight Time is generally favored throughout the state.

PUT MOUTH ON-MOUTH

It's a Fine Life Saver

By LINDA KALT
More than one person can testify the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is just not a way of kissing, and Harvey Howell is one. It saved his life.

Howell's case demonstrates why the Palm Springs Fire Department will take the time March 30 to give a course in the life saving technique to the employees of the Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association.

Captain Stickle of the fire department received a call that a man was suffering from a heart attack.

While en route to the scene, the department received a call from a police officer saying that the victim has been given mouth to mouth resuscitation and was conscious. Upon arrival, oxygen was administered to Howell until he could be removed to the hospital. From questioning it was learned that Mrs. Carl Miller, neighbor of the victim had given him mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. She stated that if it were not for the instructions learned from the firemen at the Rancho Trailer Park earlier this month she would not have had the least idea of the steps to take.

And this is precisely the reason the firemen are willing to take the time to teach the technique. They are willing to bring their history of artificial respiration in color slides, instructions on how to administer it and a movie, "That They May Live," showing the research and results of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to any group consisting of at least 25 persons.

TV Arts, Science Academy Sets Date for Nomination

NEW YORK (UPI)—The final date for members of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences to submit nominations for its Emmy Awards for the 1961-62 video season is April 14. The ballot compiled from the nominations will be announced by the National Awards Committee after the board of trustees winds up a three-day meeting in Seattle, Wash., on April 29. Members of the organization then will vote on the nominees.

Those who have been wondering why singer Andy Williams, a really talented and personable performer, hasn't been given a regular television spot of his own can now relax. NBC announced that Andy will be host and star of a one-hour weekly musical show in color starting Sept. 27. It will fill the 10-11 time Thursday nights.

Lloyd Bridges is finally getting out of that "Sea Hunt" underwater suit (except for re-runs, that is). CBS-TV next fall will air a new one-hour dramatic series entitled "Adam Fable" in which the star will appear as a noted author-journalist who is always seeking "the story behind the story" of dramatic events.

NBC has renewed "International Showtime" for its same 7:30-8:30 p.m. slot Fridays for next season. The network's "Sing Along with Mitch" will move in the fall from its present 10 p.m. Thursday position to 8:30 p.m. Fridays.

Jack Paar's new setup at NBC in the fall will consist of a weekly one-hour colorcast Fridays at 10 p.m. Starting date is Sept. 14.

"The Untouchables" will come back for a fourth ABC-TV season next fall. However, it may be shifted from its customary Thursday night spot.

COMPANY POLICY — The Animal Insurance Co. of America recently served notice it will not write policies on pet lions, wolves, cougars, jaguars or house cats that are "scratchers" "biters," or "tearers."

"TWISTORY" is being made by Milton F. Kreis, who has imported Bobby Dee, of Peppermint Lounge fame, to his Rim Rocks Restaurant for nightly Twist exhibitions and instruction. Bobby was crowned National Twist champion, over 360 top competitors.

HOAGY CARMICHAEL'S 'STAR DUST'

Popular Classic Was Once Criticized

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
NEW YORK (UPI) — When Hoagy Carmichael wrote "Star Dust" almost 35 years ago, he probably did not realize it would become a popular surviving classic. It has been played so many times through the years on dance floors that its melody would seem to wear thin but it hasn't. There was a time, however, when "Star Dust" was criticized. Shortly after World War II, when the modern jazz movement began, some musicians regarded Carmichael's tune as too melodious. Yet one of the most unforgettable arrangements of "Star Dust" was recorded at that period. Lionel Hampton and a great combo played it in a "Just Jazz" concert at Pasadena's Civic Auditorium on Aug. 4, 1947.

The combo included such now famous names as Slam Stewart, Charlie Shavers and Barney Kessel. Gene Norman has just reissued the concert in an LP called "Star Dust" by the Lionel Hampton all stars (Decca DL74194). The concert as recorded on this LP includes extended arrangements of "One O'Clock Jump,"

"The Man I Love" and "Oh, Lady Be Good."

"Do the Twist" by Connie Francis (MGM E4022). Connie, accepting the challenge of the times, emerges unscathed in a rigorous assault on a dozen tunes, among them "Hey Ring-a-Ding" and "Telephone Lover."

Selected Singles—"Lover Come Back" by Doris Day (Columbia 4-42295), "Tongue Tied Over You" by Rusty Draper (Mercury 71914), "Don't Fly Away, Flamingo" by The Four Lads (Dot 45-16328).

Forest products make up 33.5 per cent of Sweden's exports.

COALS TO NEWCASTLE
TUBA CITY, Ariz. (UPI)—The Tuba City Sportsman's Club, whose members all are Navajo Indians, Wednesday reported considerable interest in its new course—how to use the bow and arrow.

RIGHT AT HOME
LONDON (UPI)—Scottish-born Margaret Lindsay, 29, probably feels she may get homesick when she tries to swim the English Channel this summer.

She asked Wednesday that the boat following her carry a Scotsman playing a bagpipe.

SYMPATHETIC EAR
WOODLAND, Calif. (UPI)—A sympathetic City Council said it would help a businessman who asked that the street name be changed where he plans to open a food market.

The street now is known as "Dead Cat Alley."

THE HARD WAY
KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI)—Lester Jones, 35, was in jail on assault charges today for trying to run over Dr. John Buelke with a bulldozer during an argument over shrubbery.

FOR THE BIRDS
DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Wednesday was for the birds in Iowa.

State law requires public schools to devote part of each March 21 to the study of birds.

OUT-FOXED
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Lester Fox was serving a 60-day jail term today because one of his children talked out of turn during a visit by a county welfare worker.

"Daddy, is this the man who is going to take away our car?" the child asked, and Daddy was arrested for failure to report a change in circumstances as a relief recipient.

ON THE MOVE
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The smog will reach it anyway, but Bakersfield somehow has moved 14 miles in the past week.

A sign on the northbound San Diego Freeway which last year listed the distance to Bakersfield as 98 miles was changed several days ago to 112 miles.

RELAXED DRIVE PLANNED
LOUGHBOROUGH, Eng. (UPI)—Students at Loughborough College have obtained a driver's license for a four-poster bed on wheels. They planned to drive it 100 miles to London today.

BIRTHDAY PARTY for C. D. Date, 84-year-old founder of the Imps Travel Trailer Club, was celebrated at the Prairie Schooner park with the traditional singing as the veteran trailerite wished his

RANCHO MIRAGE

Alaska Friends In Visit Here

RANCHO MIRAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heath, founders of the unique international shipping of gift packages of Alaskan wild berries, are the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace. Mr. and Mrs. Heath are en route to their home in Homer, Alaska, after a trip to Panama. The Heaths spend their summers in Alaska and Canada gathering material for "The Milepost." The 1962 edition of their guide for Alaska, Yukon, Canada and the Alaska Highway is now off the press.

On one of their many desert visits Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Lunch are enjoying several days away from their home in North Hollywood. Eventually Mr. and Mrs. Lunch hope to make their desert home their permanent address.

Among the weekend guests at the Casa Verde Apartments were Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Amoroso and family from Los Angeles and Guillermo Jijon who is visiting from South America. Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Clayton from Murrieta, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Klein and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Klein from Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wadsworth III from Rosemead and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hunt from Garden Grove.

Among the thirty friends in attendance at the annual patio buffet dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. John Vale for those who served as matrons and patrons of the Eastern Star in 1959 when John was Worthy Grand Patron of California, were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Carl of Rancho Mirage (formerly of the Beverly Hills chapter) Mrs. Belmar Leonard of Yuca Valley (formerly of Montebello), Mrs. Amelia Gamble of Corona, Del Mar, Mrs. Lizzie Hunter Stormes of Temple City, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sprague of Pasadena, Mrs. Helene Bird from Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunkins and others all from the Los Angeles area.

Pickle Packers Set Sessions

Palm Springs will be in a pretty pickle, April 12-13. That doesn't mean the city will be in a jam. It just means that the Western members of the National Pickle Packing Association will hold their annual regional convention in the city.

The two-day sessions will be held at El Mirador.

Coquina limestone is named for the shellfish embedded in it.

New Ideas Allow Home Shooting

All the fun of a shooting gallery at home with the Emenee Electronic Target Rifle Range. An authentic-looking, full size rifle shoots at the speed of light with precision accuracy. A moving electronic bull's eye lights up and rings a bell when hit. Operates on flashlight batteries; is completely safe, shooting only bullets of light.

For horse players in the family, Long Shot, Parker Brothers new board game. Eight races are run and, before each race, players dope out the odds on the tote board. The odds change with each race, in which six horses are entered.

For young horsemen next best thing to a real horse in the backyard is a new model of Blaze King, star of the National Velvet television show. A 9½-inch model of Blaze comes ready to paint; up and grooming; and a booklet complete equipment for "tacking on the care and grooming of horses."

If apartment rules or allergies preclude a live dog, Gaylord, Ideal Toy's 23-inch friendly bassett hound, will help dispel the gloom. He walks alongside his master with a comical, waddling motion and barks. He can go uphill and down again or will climb shallow steps; will pick up a special bone in his magnetized mouth. His repertoire is controlled by a gentle tug on his leash.

Former Teacher Runs for State School Post

Dr. Everett T. Calvert of West Covina, former teacher and school administrator and now a business executive, has announced his candidacy for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction. A native of Ingleside, Dr. Calvert received his doctorate of philosophy at Yale University in 1942 majoring in education. He received his A.B. degree from La Verne College in 1931 after graduating from Kern County Union High School. He was born in 1910.

Dr. Calvert has served as an elementary and high school teacher, and as lecturer at Yale and at the University of Southern California. Administrative experiences include roles as principal of Washington School in Pasadena from 1938 to 1952 and as county supervisor in Kern County for three years.

Angel View $6000 Richer

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation is $6,000 richer today after it received a check in that amount from the Palm Springs Auxiliary of the Palm. The announcement was made by Sam Benton, president of the Foundation.

In presenting the check, Isabel S. Cooper, president of the Auxiliary pointed out that contributions in excess of $6,000 had been made by the Auxiliary since the first of the year.

ON BERKELEY CAMPUS

Low Billing for JFK

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — President Kennedy will join hundreds of professors in their gold, scarlet and purple robes at the University of California Today, but he won't have top billing at the world's largest educational institution.

Campus posers heralding the annual Charter Day ceremonies do not emphasize the presidential visit, and the formal invitations are for the inauguration of Dr. Edward W. Strong as chancellor of the Berkeley campus of the far-flung school.

At the bottom of the announcement, in letters the same size, it says simply: "The principal address will be delivered by the President of the United States."

The current wisecrack among students is: "Are you planning to attend the inauguration of Dr. Strong?"

But while the university follows academic custom and the students apply the needle, more than 80,000 persons are expected to turn out to hear Kennedy speak and see him receive an honorary degree. Also receiving degrees will be Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Dr. Thomas H. Carroll, president of George Washington University.

Charter Day is the University's most imposing annual event. At most schools the biggest day of the year is graduation, but California fewer than half the graduates usually show up to receive their diplomas. The rest send in for them by mail.

THE DESERT SUN Page 9
Friday, March 23, 1962

Even when then President Harry S. Truman spoke at commencement in 1948 only about 40 per cent of the graduating seniors attended although 55,000 other spectators were there.

Charter Day Commemorates March 26, 1868 the day a legislative act creating the University of California was signed by Gov. H.H. Haught.

The observance serves as a convenient time to inaugurate new administrative officers and sum up past accomplishments. Its most colorful feature is the long, formal academic procession of professors, students and alumni.

Quick-witted Mac McDonald, who's wearing two hats this week, one for Desert Circus and one for Community Chest, said a real funny at the Deputies' Luncheon at the Tennis Club.

When Deputy Sheriffs Dom Da Rosa and Tony Cosentino announced that there would be two buses for Night on The Town, one going north and one going south, Mac said he was sorry to hear there was still that rift between the north and south and that he didn't think Lincoln would have liked it.

Lillian and John McClure won't make it to the Land of Lincoln Ball tomorrow night... and it's all because Lillian wanted to be her usual well-dressed self. As she was coming out of Western Costumers after selecting their costumes, she slipped and tore the ligaments in her ankle. As a result the McClures won't be at the Ball.

They will be returning soon, however, and let's hope that injured ankle heals swiftly as Lillian is ticket chairman for the Big Wig Luncheon at Howard Manor on April 7, when Perc Westmore will give his beauty hints and demonstrate wig glamor with live models.

Incidentally that was a bad typo on the value of the two wigs that will be given away that day. It should have said more than $200 each.

Film star Ann Miller, who is houseguesting here with the Nat Dumonts, will be with them at the Lionel Steinberg table at the Land of Lincoln Ball tomorrow night. Others joining the table will be the Arnold Kunodys, Florence Horn and Dick Gannon.

The Steinbergs were invited to Berkeley today for the Charter Day services on the University of California campus, where the President received a degree. Lionel thought he might fly up for it but wasn't sure. They do plan to attend the Charter Day exercises at the Davis campus on April 5, when Chief Justice Earl Warren will be the speaker.

A dinner dance tomorrow night will climax Eldorado Country Club's Fifth Annual Sunburst Tournament, with around 500 members and guests expected to dine at the clubhouse and dance to the music of Bernie Richards and his orchestra.

Other social events of the membership - guest tournament included

Wednesday night's cocktail party and last night's poolside party under the desert moon.

Haven't heard what kind of a yacht Win and Charles Becker acquired on their recent boat-buying excursion to Florida, but know that Nellis and Al Hunts are flying to Florida early in April to join the Beckers aboard their new yacht for an extended cruise. They will sail from Miami and visit the Bahamas and Nassau and from there on plans are indefinite. Nellis told Joyce Clarke that they might be away as long as three months... which is a lot of yachting.

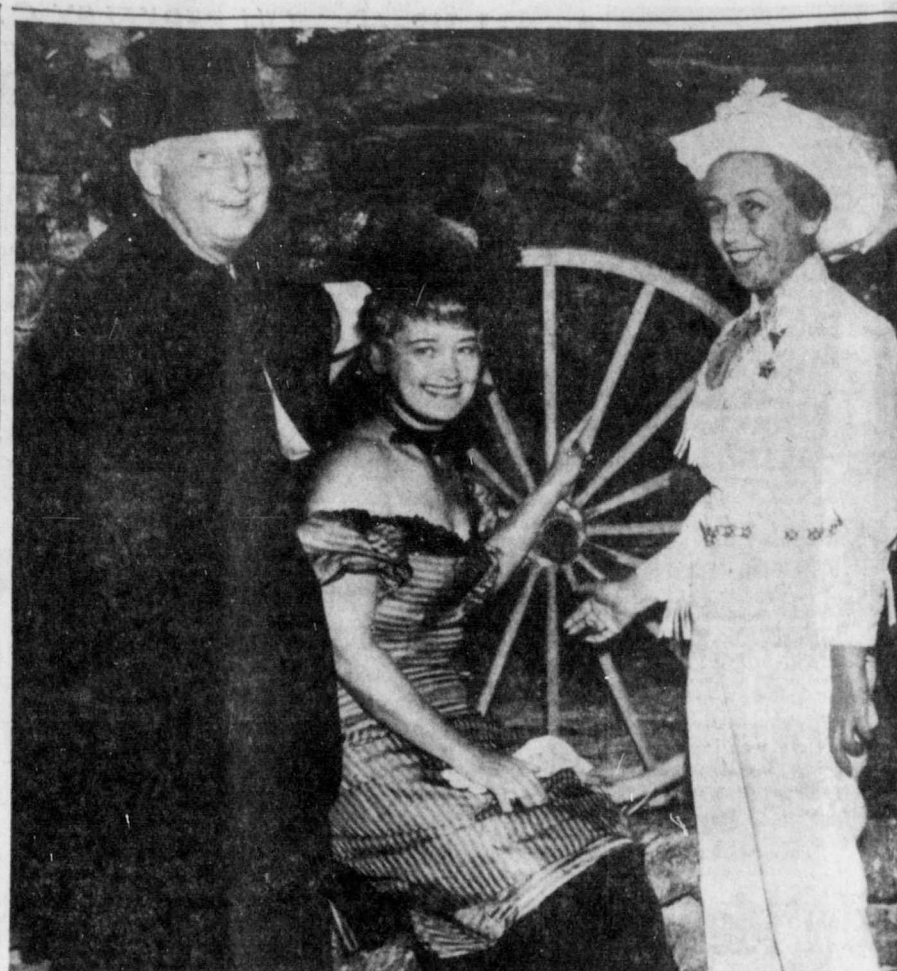

Before Gov. and Mrs. Brown arrive here Saturday morning to houseguest with the Phil Regans, the Governor has a Los Angeles date with the President's brother Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

"I guess I've never really needed a mink stole," says Mrs. Vern Patrick of Calle Encina, "but I have secretly prayed for one." Born in San Jacinto and married in Coachella in 1908, she has lived in the desert area ever since.

This week her prayers were answered when a postcard entry she had sent in to "Beat The Odds" television program, was drawn on the nightly quiz show. Her prize? A mink stole.

Mrs. Patrick has seven children, three of whom live in Palm Springs, Earl Neel, Mrs. Joe Butler and Mrs. Bill Paul.

That just proves the eloquence of the slogan "Think Mink." Congratulations, Mrs. Patrick, and you be sure and wear that stole before your daughters get hold of it.

Nominees Are Named by PTA Of Cielo Vista

A slate of officers to be elected to next year's board was nominated from the floor, when the Cielo Vista PTA held a general membership meeting in the school's multipurpose room.

Nominees were: Mrs. Joanne Hardy, chairman; Mrs. Corrine Campbell, Norman Edgmon, E. Earl Hall and Warren Danielson.

With over 100 in attendance and Mrs. Lillie Milkie presiding, Mrs. Jerrie Rabinovitz, program chairman, presented a program highlighted by the presentation of the Cub Scout Charter of Cub Park 186, by Dr. George Milkie, institutional representative.

Mrs. Ruth Cassidy's 4th grade Tonettes, taught by Edwin Bowman of the high school music department, performed several selections. A skit, presented by the combined 4th and 5th grade class of Mrs. Lois Lux, included songs and dances, representative of different countries, and an explanation of how music teaches many lessons in life.

Babysitting was provided, and refreshments were served following the meeting.

SAYS SCIENTIST

Habits Primitive

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Public Health Service anthropologist says modern living conditions give American children primitive eating habits.

Margaret Lantis named snacks, coffee breaks, refrigeration and self-service merchandising as cultural factors adversely affecting youngsters' food habits.

She said they encourage piece-meal eating as in primitive cultures, where children pick up what they can find, beg or take leftovers or food rejected in preparation by their elders.

In a paper delivered before a nutrition education conference in Washington, D.C., Dr. Lantis criticized self-service merchandising in stores and vending machines for offering small choices between many kinds of one food, instead of large choices between basically different foods.

"It is more important for a child to choose between a candy bar and an apple—and to have both equally available and tempting—than for him to choose from 12 chocolate bars, in reality choosing only between a gold wrapper and a silver wrapper," she said. She added that the wide availability of snack food and soft drinks in variety and drug stores, apparel shops, filling stations and clubs also encourages poor nutrition.

Dr. Lantis suggested that an educational program be launched to halt the trend—that children be taught good food buying habits as they are taught good automobile driving habits.

"In more school systems, classes should be taken to large bakeries, slaughterhouses, any available food processing centers as routinely as they are taken to museums.

To help them make wise food choices, Dr. Lantis urged that vending machines carry dried and candied fruit as well as candy bars.

Sorority Holds Election, Vote For Top Girl

Balloting for the "Girl of the Year" and election of officers marked the meeting of Tau Sigma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, when it met in the community room of Santa Fe Federal.

Result of the balloting for the "Girl of the Year" award will not be revealed until April 30, when the award will be made at the Founders' Day observance.

Pat Hilborn was elected president; Betty Deal, recording secretary; Rita Jones, corresponding secretary; Bea Ochirero, treasurer; and Leona Cray, civil defense officer.

Three new members, who will be inducted in a combined ritual to be held jointly with Sigma Gamma Chapter on April 2, were announced by Charlene Hicks, membership chairman. Presented to the group were: Marthe Zipfel, Angie Martins and Pauline Copass.

Pat Wahlberg, retiring sorority president, will hostess the practice session of the ritual teams at her Paseo de Anza home on the morning of April 2. Members of Tau Sigma assisting with the Ritual of Jewels will be Mmes. Lather, Hilborn, Hicks and Marian Weigel. The Pledge Ritual will be read by Mrs. Wahlberg, who will be assisted by Mmes. Deal, Hilborn and Lillie Milkie.

A bake sale is also being planned by the chapter, to be held during the Desert Circus parade, near the Palm Canyon branch of Bank of America. Mrs. Lather, chairman for the sale, announced that part of the proceeds will go to the Community Chest drive and the balance will be reserved for Tau Sigma's service work.

Spring Fashions Seen by Church Women

The coming of Spring was evidenced in the "Visions of Springtime" fashion show luncheon presented by the Women's Association of Palm Springs Community Church in the social hall of the church.

Coordinated by Evelyn Schilling, the show was commented by Charlotte Dirland, who said that this year's fashion keeps pace with its accent on the young, fresh feminine look. Colors are softer, she said, in keeping with a softer silhouette, and the fabric story backs up this look with the introduction of softer, lighter-weight fabrics.

To the younger-than-springtime background music played by Zoella Fredrickson, delectable fashions from the dress shop of Faye Renee's were modeled by Virginia Mullen, Inga Buckheim, Nancy Fischer, Corrine Campbell, Virginia Mullins, Mary Meier, Dorothy Normandin, La Verne Bradley, Elmer Arnold, Clara Hancock and Emily Williams. Shoes were from the Ted Land Shop.

The social hall had been decorated with hanging baskets of pastel spring flowers. Over the stairway entrance to the stage a bower made of white-painted driftwood was hung with spring flowers and white doves perched on top. Preceding the show, musical selections, from "The King and I" were presented by the Palm Springs High School pupils of Wynne Hammond. The musical will be staged in the school auditorium in early April.

White tablecloths, decorated with center hands of pink and yellow, covered the luncheon tables which were centered with baskets of sweet peas.

A delightful ending to the show was the group of foreign costumes from Spain, China, Korea, Sweden, Greece, Mexico, India and model by Madelyn Freeman, Beverly Janes, Grace Soon Line, Kristina Buckheim, Miriam Persons, Pauline Copass and Martha Salway.

The more than 250 guests were welcomed by President, Carrie Newton and the invocation was given by Arleen Chapman and devotions by Jean Blackstone.

HORNSBY SAYS

Maris Is Bush Leaguer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Hall of Famer Rogers Hornsby, the greatest right-handed hitter in baseball history, today branded home run king Roger Maris of the New York Yankees as "a bush leaguer with a .269 batting average."

Hornsby, who compiled a lifetime average of .338 and hit more than 400 three times, was incensed because Maris snubbed him Thursday when photographers invited them to have their picture taken together. Hornsby, now a coach with the New York Mets, readily accepted the invitation but Maris deliberately turned his back on the 65-year-old Hornsby and walked away.

Maris, whose 61 homers in 1961 made him the successor to Babe Ruth as baseball's all-time home run king, refused comment.

"That bush leaguer," exploded Hornsby. "I've posed for pictures with some major league hitters—not bush leaguers like he is."

A friend of the Yankees star said that Maris refused to have his picture taken with Hornsby because of remarks attributed to Rogers during the winter.

"Hornsby ridiculed the fact that a man with a .269 batting average could top Ruth's mark of 60 homers," said the friend, who asked not to be identified. "That happens to be a sore point with Maris."

Palm Springs Mirror and Glass place in the His and Her's league bowling team shutout Freeman and Foster, 4-0, to take over first at the PS Bowl. Garcia Insurance Agency defeated Adams Carpet Service, 4-0, and Krings Chevron took four from Team six.

Women's high game and series was rolled by Vertie McMahon with scores of 177 and 451 respectively. Nello DiGrandi was tops on the men's side with a game of 202 and a 499 series.

Kay Lux rolled a 530 series in the Palm Springs Palmettes league and L. Tobey had hi-game of 200. Hi-team series was bowled by Hoams Pools, who collected 2,081 pins and hi-team game honors went to Rainbow Room with a total of 735.

At the PS Lanes, Chuck Swift rolled hi-game of 228 in the Desert Business' Men's league and Ray Newell rolled hi-series of 602. High team series was rolled by Fred Hathaway Co. team, as they collected a total of 2,942 pins. Industrial Electric rolled hi-team game of 996.

In the Summer Housewife's league, Jo Miller hit a 7-6-10 split. Marge Scarms hit a 4-7-10 split, and Louise Strebe knocked down the 5-8 for a spare. Virginia Marshall rolled a 410 series; Dorothy Newberry, 412; Rose Langdon, 420, and Jane Dill, 407.

Santa Fe Team Wins In Bantams

Santa Fe Federal team of the Bantam Boys won the league championship during their last league matches at the PS Bowl and the awarding of trophies to the winners will take place at the annual banquet to be held next month.

The annual banquet will be staged on Apr. 7, in the community room at the Santa Fe Federal Savings and Loan Association, sponsors of the Bantam Boys.

High average honors went to Alan Ames with a 108 and hi-series to Bruce Blauvelt with a 288 total. Most improved player—plus 24—was Gene Marinko, and the meritorious award to John Munger.

High series and games rolled during the last league play was as follows:

Alan Ames, 247-136; Bruce Blauvelt, 239-135; Randy Svoboda, 215-123; Mike Hunt, 217-113; Jeff Kemp, 214-114; Gene Marinko, 213-117; Bob Marinko, 209-108; Kent Eicher, 108 and John Munger, 109.

Annual Ojai Tennis Meet In April

America's oldest tennis event, the Ojai Tennis Tournament, will be held for the 63rd time on Apr. 26-29.

Events this year include: the Invitational men's and women's singles, The Thacher Cup men's intercollegiate AAUW, the men's junior college championships, men's independent college championships, the women's intercollegiate championships, the girls' Ojai championship, the younger boys' and girls' championships and the Southern California Griggs Cup interscholastic championships.

Perry T. Jones will again serve as official referee. A list of participants in this famous event reads like tennis history. Among the many famous women players are the names of May Sutton Bundy, Mary K. Browne, Dorothy Bundy, Louise Browne, Helen Wills and Maureen Connolly. In addition to Perry Jones, the men's list includes such names as Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, Francis Shields, Jack Kramer, Pancho Gonzales, Tony Trabert and Alex Olmedo.

Cassius Clay to Fight Logan in 10-Round Bout

O' Case Laughs as Mets Whip Yanks, 4-3

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Chalk up one for Casey Stengel, the New York Mets and all the "underprivileged" of the baseball world.

It was only a spring exhibition game but there it was in black and white: Mets 4, Yankees 3. The conglomeration of castoffs and kids who make up the Mets roster had whipped the lordly Yankees. And O' Case, canned by the Yankees because he was "too old," was enjoying a good laugh at the expense of the team he led to 10 American League flags in 12 years.

Briefs From PCL Camps

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—Cold weather limited Hawaii's workout to four hours Thursday, but manager Irv Noren was pleased with the progress made by the 40 players in camp.

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—Sharp pitching and timely hitting Thursday gave the Tacoma Giants a 12-2 win over a Cleveland Indian team.

The Giants ripped into the Indian's hottest rookie, Sam McDowell, who finally retreated during a four-run barrage in the eighth.

Ralph Alomar led the Tacoma hit parade as he drove in four runs.

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—A pair of acquisitions from Houston, Phil Murreck and Dick Burwell, and youthful Dave Seaman, who had a 24-7 record last season in the lower minors, will get the first pitching calls when Salt Lake's bees open their spring exhibition schedule against San Antonio in Mesa Sunday.

Indians Track Team Loses In Perris Triangular Meet

PERRIS — In a triangular track meet here yesterday with Hemet, Perris and Palm Springs high school cindermen, the host Perris team won in the varsity competition with impressive wins in several events.

The Indians won the 880 relay in 1:35.6 and sprinter Ray Roberts finished first in the 106-yard dash and his teammate, Larry Harris came in second. Roberts ran the century in 10.5.

Sam Alexander hurdled his way to a first in the 120-yard low hurdles and finished second in the 70 yard high hurdles. Brad Sales took another first for the Indians with a win in the 440-yard dash in 55.3.

Results:
100—Roberts (PS), Harris (PS), 10.5.
220—Flock (H), Henston (P), 24.0.
440—Sales (PS), Randall (P), 55.3.

DOUBLE STEAL IN 9th

Angels Whip Red Sox, 4-3

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — A double steal in the ninth inning by Ken Hunt and rookie Larry Cutright lifted the Los Angeles Angels to a 4-3 win over the Boston Red Sox to put the Angels Cactus League record up over the .500 mark.

In 1961 when the L. A. ball club joined the ranks of the American League there were more lemons than angels in the original draft selection for the Angels, but Eli Grba was the rarest of baseball pitchers — a full-fledged starting pitcher.

Grba, perhaps one of the most underrated American League hurlers over a full season, showed he was ready for the '62 campaign Thursday, when he pitched two-hit shutout ball for Skipper Bill Rigney's crew in six innings.

The Angels moved over to Tucson today to play the Cleveland Indians, putting Jim Donohue and Jack Spring against Dick Donohue and Ron Taylor for the Indians. Donohue was an expensive tribe acquisition, figuring in the deal that sent Jim Piersall to the Washington Senators.

Most of the men, and boys, picked by the Angels in the original American League draft in 1960 have long since departed from the Los Angeles scene — either from old age, terror at the sight of Wrigley Field's power zones, or sheer lack of talent.

Grba, a former Yankee, didn't come in that category and his ability to stay in rotation, pitching a large percentage of his games with limited relief. His record of 11-13 failed to show his true value, as his frequent rout-going performances helped Rigney save his skimpy mound staff.

Hurler's 6 Innings
In yesterday's win over Boston, Grba pitched longer than any other Angel this spring and figures to get the call from Rigney when the Los Angeles ball club opens the '62 season in Chicago.

The "Hummer", Art Fowler, wasn't hummin' 'em Thursday when he relieved Grba in the seventh. The Angels lost their edge when the Sox belted Fowler from the shelter of a 2-0 lead and went in front, 3-2. Fowler gave up three hits, three free tickets to first, and a wild pitch as the Boston team went into a brief lead.

In the top of the ninth, the Angels tied the game when Cutright only 20, singled home Leon Wagner and then Hunt crossed the plate in a theft of home as Cutright drew a throw to second, which gave the Palm Springs "heros" what proved the deciding run.

Westward Ho Men's Group To Stage Golf Tournament

The Westward Ho Men's golf association will hold its monthly breakfast and 18-hole tournament Sunday beginning with an 8 a.m. "chow lie". All members are eligible to compete in the medal play contest with full handicap.

During the breakfast, which will be prepared and served by members of the Westward Ho Auxiliary, the tournament chairman for the association, Budge MacAllister, will announce plans for the group's championship.

In the best ball of mixed foursomes play held Sunday, Mar. 18, at Westward Ho Golf Club, top honors with a score of 27 went to the team of Vivian Williams, Laura Hinderaker, Warren Lammpan and Don Cameron, all of Indio. A two-way tie at 28, produced a second place draw for the foursome of Velma Moore for the foursome of Carr and Al Oass. The first three team members are from Indio and the last from Bremerton, Wash. Third place fell to the combination of Veta Morgan, Palm Desert; Jewell Flick, Indio; Dan Williams, Indio; and Abe Rubin, Coachella. A total of 32 players competed.

Indians Baseball Team Defeats Beaumont, 8-2

The Palm Springs Indians baseball team now have four straight non-league victories to their credit after they defeated the visiting Beaumont nine yesterday at the Polo Grounds, 8-2.

Hurlers Larry Mead and David Titlebaum shared mound duties for the Tribemen and closed the door on the batsmen from Beaumont. Mead allowed but two singles and Titlebaum took over in the fourth inning and pitched hitless ball for the remainder of the game.

The Morrison brothers, Mickey and Kenny, shared hitting honors for the Indians as they pounded out two hits apiece. The Indians collected nine hits off the two Beaumont hurlers, R. Valdivia and S. Valdivia.

Both of the visitors runs were unearned in the first inning, as they scored on two singles and a two-base error.

One more practice game is on the Indians' schedule, that being with the San Jacinto Nine next Tuesday at the Polo Grounds before they open the Desert Valley League action against Indio there next Thursday afternoon.

"You'll Like Doing Business With Us"

A Matter of Mind

By Dr. Arthur Janov

One of the difficult questions for adults to answer today is exactly what makes them feel like a man or woman. Many of us spend a good deal of time in activities that increase our masculinity or femininity while only dimly aware of the meaning of what we are doing.

The process of becoming feminine or masculine is known psychologically as "identification." It is a crucial process in our development and anything that tends to interfere with it can lead to serious problems later in life.

Normally, the most important element in identification is to have around you in your growing years a parent of the same sex who is both warm and strong; someone who can be a model to pattern one's attitudes and behavior after. The absence of a strong father for a boy either due to his indifference or perhaps physical loss through death can be as harmful as having a rather hysterical, shrieking mother would be for a girl.

Compulsive Influences

In either case there is going to be difficulty in forming an identification with the parent of the same sex. Often this tends to throw the child too much toward the parent of the opposite sex where he takes on attitudes and values inappropriate to his own sex. Since the child cannot feel wholly masculine or feminine (with a value system taken from the parent of the opposite sex) he tends toward activities outside the home that will help him toward identification. These activities may range from flying to sexual preoccupations.

Neither flying nor sex are neurotic activities until they become compulsions in the service of reinforcing one's inadequate identification. We are all familiar with the male who counts his masculinity by the notches on his belt of conquest and the girls who cannot feel wholly feminine until subdued by a man. A proper parental model would possibly have helped to circumscribe those compulsions. When you feel like a man or woman you don't have to spend your life proving it.

Outside Boosters

Women sometimes make too much of small things as a means to bolster their feeling of femininity. They may insist that men light their cigarettes or open doors for them. They may feign helplessness while having the uneasy feeling that they are stronger and a bit more masculine than the males in their company.

Too often a woman may expect a man to make her feel like a woman because the inner feminine identification is lacking. She expects someone else to give her feeling she is unable to give herself. She frequently finds herself involved with men who themselves are struggling with the problem of identification.

The same type of men focus on the trivial to enhance their feelings of masculinity. They studiously avoid doing dinner dishes or any other chore that may have a feminine tinge.

Compulsive Risks

They frequently make a compulsion out of activities that involve danger, and the ability to harness and control considerable power. Examples of this may be horsebackriding, and skydiving. These activities often show masculinity compulsions because they are continually used in vain to bring about an inner masculine identification that did not properly take place in the relationship between father and son.

One frequently finds that problems of identification balance out in the marital situation where a woman with more masculine qualities will seek out for a life partner a man who tends toward greater softness, passivity and what the culture generally considers feminine qualities. Their marital situation often mirrors the home relationships, between their parents. While we really can't go home again we may often recreate "home" in our current family relationships.

In other words, it was a compromise all around and now all the participants can start fresh. Whether anyone is likely to change his views remains to be seen.

In the background, saying little but exercising enormous influence simply by virtue of his military reputation was Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff. LeMay wants the RS70 produced, and that is no small matter with members of Congress. He took his case unsuccessfully to McNamara and Kennedy but very successfully to the House Armed Services Committee.

Who Won The Battle Over RS70?

By CHARLES W. CORDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Who won the battle over the RS70 combat plane—the battle that threatened lasting damage to relations between the Kennedy administration and Congress?

In the first place, it must be called a battle for the "war" is not over. The issue of whether a fleet of the 2,000-mile-an-hour atomic-missile carriers is to be built is far from settled.

But when the smoke cleared away Wednesday, after hasty meetings, a House vote and a presidential news conference, these were some of the answers to the question of who won:

—President Kennedy, because he averted a head-on collision with Congress on the issue of whether the legislators could "direct" him by law to spend unwarranted defense funds. A bruising fight could have resulted from efforts to pass such a bill.

—Get Presidential Promise.—Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., and his House Armed Services Committee, because they gained an 11th-hour presidential promise to expand RS70 development if new technical studies prove it wise and to give full consideration to committee views.

—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, because he avoided a commitment to a multi-billion dollar RS70 production program and seemingly retained the flexibility to hold the project where it now is if he decides that should be done.

—The Air Force, because it now gets a new chance to advocate a development effort looking toward eventual production of an RS70 fleet.

—Finally, the public, because Kennedy said at his news conference there would be "chaos" if both the President and Congress pushed their powers to ultimate limits under the U.S. system of divided authority.

Young Massachusetts Politicos Could Learn

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A couple of the young politicians who seek to be elected from Massachusetts to the U.S. Senate could profit from exposure to Richard M. Nixon's forthright manner in dealing with a question that might cost him some votes.

Nixon has announced for the Republican nomination for governor in California. The tough question for Nixon was what to do about the John Birch Society. The society has some voting strength in California. Nixon's answer to the tough question was this:

Those members of the John Birch Society should purge Robert Welch from command of the society or they, themselves, should resign.

Welch Condemned

Nixon appeared this month before the California Republican Assembly (CRA) in support of a resolution condemning Welch's society leadership and urging Republicans to resign from it. The CRA delegates before whom Nixon appeared represented about 12,000 Republican Party leaders and grass roots workers in California. The delegates voted to condemn Welch but refused to recommend that Republicans resign from the JBS.

"I think that Robert Welch ought to get out of the JBS or that all Republicans ought to get out of it," Nixon told the CRA. "I will not endorse any Republican candidate (in this year's election) who has not made the choice between Robert Welch and Dwight Eisenhower."

That is Nixon's position and there is no doubt that involved. There is no doubt where Nixon stands. That is the way a politician should take a position on any issue of public interest. If the politician is to be worth a hoot as an elected official he must have the guts to state firmly and frankly his position even in those areas where honesty with the voters may cost the politician votes.

Now, consider another question, this one arising with peculiar force in the commonwealth of Massachusetts. The question is whether the federal government should or could under the Constitution aid church schools. There are honest differences of opinion. But the opinions are not honest if they are not frankly expressed.

Candidates Duck

Some days ago Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy was questioned on Meet the Press (NBC television) about federal aid to parochial schools. He is a candidate for Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate in Massachusetts. Ted Kennedy avoided direct answers to questions about federal aid. President Kennedy is against federal aid to parochial schools. Brother Ted declined to say whether his opinions were contrary to those of the President.

ONLY $25 MILLION

Colleges Are Delayed

By Jerry Reynolds

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A state official has charged that the Board of Trustees of California's state colleges has delayed planning of more than $25 million in college construction throughout the state.

Hubert S. Hunter, chief deputy of the state Division of Architecture, said construction on at least nine campuses has been delayed, some jobs since last July 1.

C. Ray Varley, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's departmental secretary, confirmed Hunter's statement but said "some slow-ups" resulted because the trustees, who started governing the colleges last July, were programming the studies at various colleges.

"It's about time somebody sat down and decided just what we are going to teach at various colleges," Varley said, "but it's true it is holding up some architectural planning."

He said the projects delayed amount to one third of one year's construction budget for state colleges.

As one example of the delay, Hunter said the state architects have long since completed preliminary plans on a $3 million engineering building at Chico State. He said the 1961 legislature voted funds for working plans of the building, but the Board of trustees has delayed the work and it has not been started.

Other campuses affected by the delays, Hunter said, are Los Angeles, San Diego, Long Beach, Fresno, San Francisco, Sacramento, and San Jose State Colleges, both the Kellogg-Voorhis and San Luis Obispo Campuses of Cal Poly and possibly others.

Hunter said the delays have caused a shortage of work in the Division of Architecture and the state would lay off 15 employees from the division by July 1. "Unless this money breaks loose," he said, "we will have to reevaluate our manpower situation and we may have to lay off more."

That Seattle Monorail Opened Los Angeles Eyes

SEATTLE (UPI)—City and county officials from Los Angeles took a look at Seattle's World's Fair monorail Wednesday and said that's what the West Coast's biggest city area needs to solve its traffic problems.

The group included City Councilmen LeMoine Blanchard and James Brown, County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn and Los Angeles Airport Commissioner David Robinson.

The single tracked, rubber-tired monorail runs between the fairgrounds and downtown Seattle elevated well above the flow of street traffic. It carries passengers along at speeds up to 60 miles an hour and runs quietly compared to conveyances of similar size.

Envisioning monorail transportation in the Los Angeles area, the four officials saw possibilities: "Blanchard—'It will cut down on freeway traffic, and still keep people out in our glorious sunshine. Why dig a gopher hole down Wilshire Boulevard?'"

Brown—"Why, there are a million people out in the (San Fernando) Valley who can't move without an automobile. We had better transportation out there 30 years ago."

Hahn—"The answer to the city's mass transportation."

Robinson—"I would like to see a similar system loop the entire Los Angeles airport."

State Outgo Faster Than Its Income

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California's general fund expenditures have increased at a faster rate than revenues during the first eight months of the 1961-62 fiscal year.

State Controller Alan Cranston announced that revenues went up 4.2 per cent over the same period in 1960-61, while expenditures increased $94,950,607, while expenditures totaled $1,137,327,139.

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Valley Planting Time Is Nearing Its Peak

Here, in our oasis-like corner of Coachella Valley planting time, in different degrees, is endless and gradually reaching its peak for this season. The cutting of bouquets for indoor decorations has again become one of the daily pleasures of desert living.

The ardent gardener will continue to plant new specimens wherever he finds a vacant spot and refresh his older beds with new, vigorous young plants from his favorite nursery. His choice locally is almost limitless. There are petunias, single, double, and ruffled — boasting such fancy names Elk'd Pride, Black Prince and many others on display together with pansies, violas, jonquils, cyclamens, etc. Curlicow Asters, sunflower-type marigold named Orange Glow, etc. are little more costly at present but eventually they will become more and more desired.

Hints on Cut Flowers

There are a variety of ideas on the handling of cut flowers but we have found the following to prove most satisfactory among the many we have experimented.

Cut roses when their sugar content is at its height which is late in the afternoon. Split the first two inches of the stem ends and place them in a vase filled with water and keep in a dark, cool spot over night. This allows the cells to fill with water.

If you want a display of buds cut as soon as the petals begin to unfurl. Allow the flower to remain on the plant until the buds are half open if you prefer full flowers. Snapdragons last longer if cut when the top bloom is almost half open at base and the remainder of the cone is in bud. Strip off all lower leaves and place the stalks in water which contains three tablespoons of baking soda to each two quarts.

Cut scabiosas when the flower is about three-quarters open and use a similar mixture of water.

Cut iris when the buds are beginning to open, plunge immediately into cold water. It is interesting to watch the buds open successively. Snap off all fading flowers. Half the rays of calendulas should be open at the time of cutting. Ice cubes should be placed in the vase of water for this plant. If the stems show a collection of slime after awhile plunge them into hot water.

Gardenias are Tender

When gardenias are cut they have no stem through which to absorb water so sprinkle the blossoms and leaves with water and, when they are not in use, put them in a refrigerator.

Tulips, jonquils, and daffodils: do not wait for the petals to unfurl before cutting. Immediately put the stem tips in boiling water for one minute then change to cold water. If too long a period elapses before they are placed in a container of water the stems are liable to become limp. To obviate this wrap wet newspaper around them restricting the number in each wrapping to ten.

Cut peonies in the early morning.

From Woodland Hills, they are the first homeowners in one of the spacious "Pacific" models. Marx is owner of Haral Records music firm.

Portrait Displays Used For Interior Decoration

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hang the family—in portrait, of course. Portraits can be given imaginative uses in the home, reports a photographic supply company. Eastman Kodak, in a house-to-house look at how portraits were being used, found:

One woman had arranged portraits of three generations of brides—her mother, herself and her three daughters—on a 20 x 30 sheet of blue, perforated cardboard. These were hung on the wall beside her dressing table. She suspended the hardboard from a fleur-de-lis fixture of the type frequently used in the bathroom. Of varying sizes, the pictures were arranged in an informal pattern and identically framed in beige, accent color of the bedroom.

Another woman, working with all the same size pictures, four 8 x 10 portraits, had framed them identically and hung them in a checkerboard pattern on the closet door. She had matted the pictures with a small floral wallpaper used on three walls of the room.

In a colonial farmhouse with a fireplace in the bedroom, the wall over the mantel was hung with a massive photograph of the children in the family.

A New England woman of nautical leanings had used colored plastic tape to fashion a ship shape on the wall and hung small framed pictures from the crossbars.

A woman from Nebraska put photographs of varying size in a haphazard pattern on a folding screen. Some of the frames used were antiques—several from aguerreotypes; others came from thrift shops and the five and dime store.

Twelve Held in Property Swindle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An investigation into a real estate scheme in which 200 homeowners were bilked out of more than $2 million in property ended with a roundup of five suspects.

Five of seven men named after the five-month probe by district attorney's office were booked on 30 counts of grand theft and conspiracy.

Investigators said the group operated the complex deal under the name of the Great Western Development Corp. in Glendale.

Taken into custody were James H. Gibson, president; Arthur Bennett, vice president; and salesmen Wyman Donald Saunders, James H. Reid and James J. Higgard. Named in the complaint but not booked were salesmen James J. Wurst and Victor E. Lawrence.

According to the complaint, the firm victimized mostly elderly persons who owned their homes clear. They were offered sales at inflated prices and were tricked into signing grant deeds on their homes. The firm paid the owners a 25 per cent down payment and promised a trust deed for the balance. The associates then on the property, Alston said. deeds on their homes and the development corporation was unable to borrow as much as possible lending institutions held first trust to pay the 75 per cent still due.

Phil Has Something New ---Presidential Weather

Palm Springs Realtor Phil Short has come up with something new in weather forecasting — presidential weather.

Short, co-owner of Palm Springs Royal Hawaiian Estates, points out that bright and sunny skies can be counted on when a President of the United States visits the desert area.

Accordingly, the sun is sure to be smiling at President Kennedy, predicts Short, when the Chief Executive arrives in Palm Springs Friday night for a week-end visit. Short did some research and discovered that Herbert Hoover, Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower all were greeted by blue skies and warm sunshine on the day they started their respective desert vacations here.

By the way, Short didn't find anything on record concerning a President George Washington visit to the desert resort city.

FLOWER ARRANGEMENT at one of the beautiful Golf Club Villa homes is tended by Joy Knyvett as she admires the interior of one of the three-bedroom homes available at the Municipal Golf Club site of the subdivision. The new homes boast 1685 square feet of living area and are priced from $23,950 to $27,950. Sale price includes carpeting, drapes and front landscaping and home owners there are treated to a beautiful panoramic view of the entire mountain range around Palm Springs. (Desert Sun Photo)

Trailer Park Adds Putting Greens

A new recreation has been added at Suntown with the installation of a putting green by Ed Bradley. Sunday brought the last playoff contest to determine the 1962 Champion. Thirty-two residents began the tournament with Harry Manchester the winner in January tournament and Gus (George) Schroeder as winner of the tourney March 17.

The fourth playoff of the second tournament narrowed down to Lee Tomkins, Oscar Kallgren, George Schroeder and Louis Fedrizzi. The fifth playoff of the contest continued between Oscar Kallgren and George Schroeder with George the winner.

Each year this trophy will be played for and the yearly winners name will be engraved on the plaque.

The Monday Men's Club Luncheon was enjoyed by 150 guests who were entertained by the members of the SunTown Choral Group.

Marry Carrier planned the musical program which was directed by Lee Stettler and combined the continental flavor of Ireland plus the songs and fun of Hawaii.

Metal House on Exhibit

BULLHEAD CITY, Ariz. — The first public showing of a two bedroom all-aluminum retirement and vacation home is scheduled here Saturday.

The model, built by Riviera Construction Company is located at Colorado Riviera — just below Davis Dam in Arizona and only 304 miles from Los Angeles. It is the first of 200 such homes planned for the area. A chuckwagon barbecue for invited guests is scheduled in connection with the opening.

William C. Sparks, Jr., president of Riviera, gave two major reasons — insulative qualities and minimum-maintenance — for selecting aluminum, supplied by Reynolds Metals Company, for the model home.

Hand-Me-Down Mattress May Mean Poor Sleeping

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hand-me-down thing. Hand-me-down bedding is down clothes for children are one another.

Using the former saves on the family budget. Using the latter may mean poor sleeping for the child, says an executive of a bedding company.

Ronald J. Shepherd, with the Spring Air Co., cited a national study showing that many of the under-12 set sleep on hand-me-down mattresses which adults have discarded as too uncomfortable.

Crib mattresses would be better in most instances, said Shepherd, because they are "good, firm ones. Apparently, many parents don't realize that a child continues to need firm support for sleeping even after outgrowing a crib."

He said the theory behind giving a child a hand-me-down mattress appeared to be that because a child weighs less than an adult, he needs less support. On the surface, this is true.

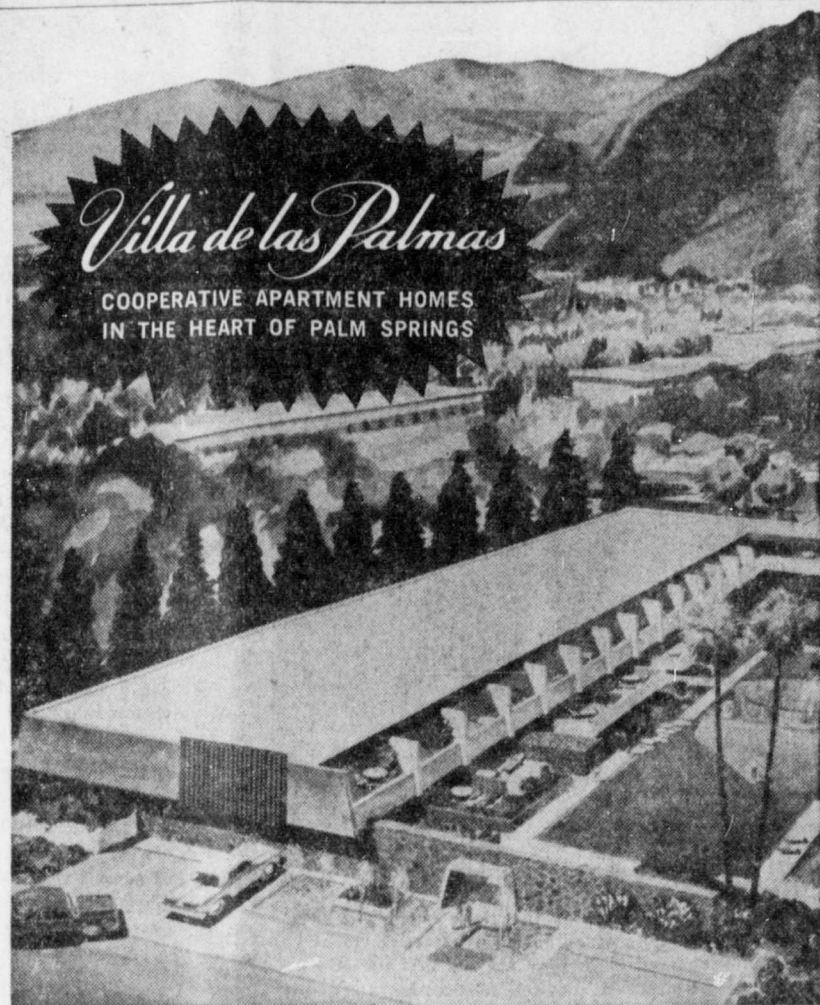

"But by the time an adult gives up the mattress, chances are it has a definite hollow sag which will affect the child's posture and in a few cases, his bone formation," Shepherd said.

He said too, that children are rough on a mattress; they often bounce on it. "A hand-me-down mattress can't take this kind of abuse," Shepherd said. "The springs and borders begin to suffer and so does the sleeping child."

Building Declines Blamed to Weather

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Home building, one of the nation's biggest industries, and a key economic indicator, slowed down in February for its fourth setback in as many months.

The Commerce Department said today that starts on privately financed houses and apartment buildings dropped 11 per cent to a 13-month low.

Stars covered 74,300 dwelling units. After allowing for the usual seasonal slowdown from January to February, this was a month-to-month drop of 11 per cent and 4 per cent below February, 1961.

February housing starts worked out to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,126,000, far below the recent high of 1,434,000 established last October. The rate has fallen steadily since then.

The January drop of 133,000 was the largest of the four monthly declines since October. The February rate was the lowest recorded since January, 1961. On a regional basis, the department said February starts were down 27 per cent in the Northeast and down 29 per cent in the West. They were up 12 per cent in the North Central Region and up 3 per cent in the South.

"The very heavy rains in Southern California, particularly in the Los Angeles area, may have contributed to the sharp drop in the West," the department said.

DROP IN WATERFOWL
BOSTON (UPI) — There has been a marked decline in the waterfowl population in the Atlantic flyway, a government agency reported.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said its annual winter survey showed the number of ducks was down about 7 per cent and the geese population was off 23 per cent. The survey covered 17 Eastern states.

Commercial Project Planned

Palm Springs' first commercial park development will make its debut this year as a result of East Ramon Road acreage acquired by Sol N. Bernstein, president of Model Plumbing Supply Co., which has offices in both Los Angeles and the desert resort city.

The 11-acre site, which Bernstein purchased through Realtor Philip Short and associated Mal Hamm, will occupy expanded facilities for Model Plumbing along with other commercial enterprises to be announced later.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the concern's new building is scheduled for next month.

This is the second time in seven years that Model Plumbing, boasting tremendous growth in both Los Angeles and Palm Springs, has been forced to expand its operation to keep pace with accelerated sales in the desert area.

Development of a beautifully landscaped commercial park has long been an ambition of Bernstein, who has contributed vastly to Palm Springs' remarkable growth pattern.

Desert Area Permits Gain

Building permits boomed in the Palm Springs and Desert Empire area during the week.

Permits issued by Jack Sanders at the city building office totalled $443,875. Included in the permits were eleven swimming pools and four dwellings. Two apartments with five units each were started. The largest permit was for a new wing at Desert Hospital at $245,000.

Permits in the Palm Desert area, valued at $95,697, included two pools and four dwellings and one duplex.

In Palm City, total value of permits was $18,373, in Rancho Mirage, $67,650 including a permit for a new post office, and in Cathedral City, $15,930.

County building permits adjacent to Palm Springs were valued at $7,500.

Imperial Backed on Tax Request

RIVERSIDE — Preparation of a resolution in support of a request by Imperial County for allocation of gasoline tax revenue money to defray costs of enforcing the California boating law on Salton Sea was ordered by the board of supervisors.

"I see no harm in the request," said County Counsel Ray Sullivan. "If granted it would do Imperial four times as much good as it would us, but it might do us some good."

The Imperial County Supervisors complained that the new law of the state Harbors and Navigation Code charges local agencies with the responsibility of enforcing its boating law but denies them the power to defray costs by collecting any type of use or registration fee. The state registers small craft and collects a registration fee and also collects a tax on gasoline on which refunds are allowed but rarely claimed.

The VIPs Know Where to Come

The Desert Empire this weekend plays host to another most distinguished guest — President John F. Kennedy.

The top man in a nation that ranks the top spot in the world, the President is scheduled to arrive at Palm Springs Airport at 7:20 p.m. today.

Mr. Kennedy comes to the Desert Empire to relax and rest, even if only for one day, from carrying the burdens of the nation and the world, on his shoulders.

In his choice of a place for a brief respite, he chose wisely. Another VIP, President Kennedy's predecessor in the White House, learned several years ago that the Desert Empire is the ideal spot to rest and relax. And Dwight D. Eisenhower who first came here when president of the nation, has come back repeatedly to enjoy this spot in the sun.

As was the case when Ike first came here while still in office as the nation's head man, President Kennedy is coming here for a brief vacation from public worries. As also was the case when Ike first came here, the President's wishes will be respected.

The visit adds another support to our claim of being the World's Foremost Desert Resort. We crowd more VIPs into our hospitality than any other spot. Tomorrow, the two men who have been in charge of our nation in the past decade, will be on the desert at the same time.

From tonight until Sunday morning, Palm Springs will rate as the national capital. White House correspondents, national political commentators, White House officials, the Secret Service, and others identified with the federal government, are arriving and will arrive before the President gets here. They are making their headquarters here.

Their stories and columns and activities, will focus the eyes of the nation on Palm Springs and the Desert Empire.

The secluded, spacious home of Bing Crosby at Silver Spur ranch near Palm Desert, will be the center of the nation for about 40 hours.

Let's hope that the weatherman is a good Democrat and in a cooperative mood.

We're Starting Them Young

Some times it takes a little time but eventually the plans and programs advanced to enhance the prestige of Palm Springs and the Desert Empire, come to pass.

For some time, local golf pros and golf enthusiasts wondered why there wasn't a golf team and inter-school golf competition at Palm Springs High School. There is a team today and a good one.

The golf pros and the enthusiasts, were confident there was a wealth of good golfing material in the Indian camp and that, with a little development, our high school boys would get a fine start at the game and go on to big things in the golf world.

After all, they argued, the Desert Empire is the Winter Golf Capital of the World so why not a high school team?

The difficulty prior to this year was in finding opponents for the Indians. But now Indian and Coachella high schools are fielding golf teams and there is competition.

The Indians have played two matches to date and won them both. A third match is scheduled.

Ray Beezley is coaching the boys and on the team are Claude Harmon, Craig Harmon, Riecky Guyman, Dick Harmon, Bob McLennan and Tom Bradley.

These lads are the pioneers. This is the first high school golf team and is paving the way for future golf teams which, undoubtedly, will add new luster to the fame of the area as the Golf Capital.

It Isn't Costing You a Penny

There are some rumors which have more lives than the proverbial feline. Swat them down in one place and they pop up in another.

For instance, the tales that construction of the Palm Springs Tramway is being paid for, through taxation, out of our pockets.

This rumor is absolutely false and rather silly, too.

T. T. McKenzie, of the Tudor Engineering Company of San Francisco, engaged in the gigantic task of building the already famed aerial lift, has an emphatic answer to these unfounded stories.

Every cent of the construction cost, he said, is being paid out of proceeds of revenue bond sales.

Not one penny is coming from the pocket of the taxpayer who, after all, will be one of the greatest beneficiaries of the giant lift.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

Some Crime-Busting Would Help

WASHINGTON, D. C. — On his recent global tour, Attorney General Robert Kennedy literally "told the world" of the great advances made by the Negro race under the Kennedy Administration. Among other wonders recited by the Attorney General was the five-fold increase of colored employees in the Justice Department.

Understandably, Bob Kennedy didn't mention the manifold increase in crime and moral delinquency which the Negro race is building up in American cities, and especially in the capital city. Shortly after Kennedy returned, there began a round robin of hold-ups and robberies of public buses. Recently, half a dozen Negro boys boarded a bus in the Negro section of Washington, beat the white driver into submission took $30 dollars from him and went their ways.

A busload of Negro passengers sat there and watched it all happen—but none of them came to the driver's aid. None of them, except a 16-year-old youth (who gave a false address), stepped forward as a witness to the crime.

What Is There to Write
My mail is cluttered with press releases from an African city about World Rule By Law, and I have interviewed a past President of the American Bar Association who is pushing the idea. But when such crimes happen almost nightly in this privileged capital of the free world, a city without industrial slums, with integrated schools, with jobs of money from a generous Congress for social uplift—what is a man to write?

Can he nationally write that races are equally law-abiding when the police statistics leer at the thoughts? Can he believe that this city is any more ready for "democracy" than Leopoldville?

QUOTES

WASHINGTON — Retired Brig. Gen. S. L. Marshall, denying suggested character deficiencies in American troops:
"I cannot imagine anything worse for this country than an unjustified lamenting, a beating of breasts about failure and weakness in the American character or a mistaken evangelism which pleads for the saving of that which has not yet been lost."

LONDON — Anthony Collier, secretary of the Cambridge University Boat Club, on the suggestion a girl should be a member of a rowing team:
"The coxswain has to live with the crew. A bit of difficulty there if he's (sic) a girl, old chap."

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — Police Sgt. Carl Stolz, referring to anonymous telephone bomb threats to the hospital where six infants died of an apparent overdose of salt in their formulas:
"The callers would have to be screwballs or cranks."

GENEVA — President Kennedy, in a message to the Geneva disarmament conference:
"Let no one, then, say that we cannot arrive at such agreements in troubled times, for it is then their need is greatest."

Need Crime Busting
Meanwhile, I see no reason why Bob Kennedy, the nation's law enforcement chief, should not show his mettle with some crime-busting. It is not good enough to boast by press release that some punk was just arrested in Podunk, or to hear the Attorney General vow his attachment to clean living and clean government. Action is what we need, and there is no better place to begin than in the Federal City.

Troops were brought into Washington to shovel snow which threatened to break up the Inaugural ceremonies in 1961. Troops were sent to Little Rock to enforce a Supreme Court order. It would be equally logical to put this city, or parts of it, under martial law during the night hours and holidays. The streets are unsafe. The metropolitan police are admittedly losing control. The criminal groups are not demoralized by bread or for political rights. It is sheer lawlessness.

Americans have a tradition about this sort of thing. In times past, in the West and in the South, when authorities could not, or would not, keep order, citizens formed vigilante bands which took law and punishment into their own hands.

This is undesirable—and it is preventable. It is up to the Attorney General of the United States.

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

I'm having another birthday. My how the years do flit! But when I get up tomorrow I'll say "too young to quit."

The above is not to be taken as a hint. Not even the slightest resemblance to a reasonable facsimile of one.

I'm one of those people who has everything except, perhaps, housemaid's knee.

I NEVER COULD understand why some people are so coy about their age. They loy years off their real age and often run into bad trouble.

On the eve of observance of a Blessed Event which occurred on 3-24-88, I can ruminate, cogitate or just plain contemplate the many advantages that go with added years.

This business of prevaricating about the number of years which have slipped by, always adding a few, is done deliberately with intent to defraud. Physically, not financially.

LIKE MANY THINGS which now make life easier, it came about as an accident. It started in the Club Car of the California Zephyr, boring a hole in the darkness in Utah.

There was a party going on and a merry, although wrinkled, Old Goat was being feted on his 70th birthday.

During the course of the somewhat thick small talk, I was asked: "How old are you?"

Feeling sort of reckless, I answered:

"I was 84 in March."

FROM THEN ON, life was just a red carpet tour.

When I dropped something, six people rushed over to pick it up. Did I want something—"don't get up, I'll get it for you."

That experience changed the entire course of my life.

Why exert myself when a judicious dalliance with the truth, always added 10 to 20 years to my real age, produced such wonderful results?

MANY PEOPLE fib about their age but on the short side which I think is foolish.

Now you take, for instance, a man who's 55 but says he's 44. People look at him and say, "my he's decrepit for a man so young."

Then consider a man who's 55 and says he's 70. People look at him, too, and say, even if he's too feeble to button his collar, "He sure is spry for his age," and bump each other in their rush to assist him.

I KNOW A MAN who moved to a new town where they didn't know him and immediately lopped 10 years from his age and went around deceitfully for 20 years.

It was all right until he was ripe for Social Security. Then he was in a real bind, having mislaid his birth certificate and everyone knowing him as 55.

Those who toy with the truth always come to some bad end. Me? Tomorrow I'll be devilish.

In a reckless mood, I'll order apple pie a la mode. A fellow has to be daring once in a while—even at 94.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: How can I get our son to date a certain girl whom he has never met and says he doesn't care to? Our son is 22 and his social life is limited to a "bunch of guys" and a few girls of so little consequence that he's never mentioned their names or brought them home for us to meet. The girl we have in mind for him is well-bred, charming, has a wonderful personality and would be just right for our son. I have been after him for over a year to call her, but he says he isn't interested. How can I get him interested? —YOUNG MAN'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If you want to kill the possibility of any romance between your son and the girl you have in mind, just keep pestering him to call her. Why not arrange an "accidental" meeting between the two and let him "discover" her himself?

DEAR ABBY: I have refused to accompany my husband to the home of his parents or any of his relatives because, every time I do, I come home with a splitting headache. They are nice people and I have nothing against them, but they all want to talk at once. Nobody gets to finish a sentence.

When one starts talking, somebody butts in, and then somebody else butts in on them and before you know it, five or six people are all hollering at once. I have given up trying to get a word in edgewise. My husband is mad at me. Am I unreasonable for refusing to put up with this?

DEAR HOLLER

DON'T DON'T: I don't blame you, Stay home. Keep up a friendly relationship with his relatives by having them come to your home. One at a time.

Remember When

March 23, 1952

A word picture of the vast Feather River project proposed for the state was given Lions Club members by Max Bookman of the state division of water resources.

Wild flowers were beginning to color the desert floor and one of the best displays in many years was expected.

County supervisors said a new anti-air pollution ordinance would be adopted within a week.

March 23, 1942
Raymond Wilson of the tire rationing board announced that permits for four tires, four tubes and four treaded had been issued during the week.

Preliminary plans for sugar rationing were received by local boards.

Mrs. Clema Granger announced plans for a meeting here of the Aviation Breakfast Club of which she is a member.

March 23, 1932
The Rev. Bertram B. Weatherall announced plans for the annual Easter Sunrise Service on the hillside back of the Desert Inn. Easter was early, on March 27.

Highways leading to Palm Springs were jammed with people coming to the desert to view the abundant display of desert wild flowers.

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to marry a very handsome, middle-aged man. The only thing I don't like about him is the way he brags about what a big success he has been with the women all his life. I've told him I didn't care to hear stories like that, but he always gets back to it. It's his favorite topic. Do you think this is a serious fault or should I just overlook it? —LEONA

DEAR LEONA: Overlook it if you love him, but remember—when a man oversells a product, prepare for a big disappointment.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Paid My Debt": Sorry, but you had better learn to live with your record. This should be a lesson to anyone who is tempted to break the law. After you've served your time, if any trouble breaks out within a thousand miles of you, the guy with the "record" is the first one to be rounded up and questioned.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

(Beverly Hills Citizen-News)
Helping the unfortunate ever has been an outstanding characteristic of this nation of free men and women.

And an organization which has made an impressive record in carrying out Americans' generosity is the Red Cross.

The Red Cross properly has gained tremendous recognition for medicines, food, clothing and rehabilitation it provides persons struck by disasters, such as floods, tornadoes, earthquakes or fires.

In addition, the Red Cross provides services for members of our armed forces, carries on exceedingly valuable blood bank programs and undertakes such additional activities as classes for expectant parents.

All of us who are fortunate enough to have life's necessities and comforts would do well to give to the Red Cross, each according to his circumstances.

Our gifts will make possible help for fellow human beings when they need help desperately. And each of us who gives will share one of life's greatest experiences, the joy of giving.

(Portland Oregonian)

Retired Air Force Gen. Thomas D. White told all the truth when he appeared before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating alleged "muzzling" of generals by the Pentagon and State Department.

He said he "rarely, if ever" wrote a speech himself. "I do not object," he added with a smile, "to a colonel censoring a speech that another colonel has written."

Pretty good quip. Wonder what colonel thought it up.

BOB CONSIDINE:

It Would Be Great If A Star Fell on Geneva

NEW YORK — Maj. Donald Slayton, USAF, who may be the coolest of the astronauts, has been declared unfit—because of heart tremors—to fly into space. You should be as healthy as Deke Slayton. You should be as calm, collected and classy.

He will be retained in Project Mercury that is a little concession on the part of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency. It and the whole U.S. space effort is lucky to have Maj. Slayton, either in orbit or on terra firma. If his tremors continue, or worse, he will still be an accomplished member of the faculty for future generations of astronauts. If his heart skips disappear, he might do things in space that would even pale the great performance of John Glenn, his friend. Around Langley Air Force base and Cape Canaveral the talk was that Deke was the calmest of them all, from a bio-medical standpoint, while being exposed to the agonies inflicted by machines perfected to test an earth-bound astronaut beyond most men's endurance.

Deke Slayton is as respected by his fellow astronauts as Glenn, Shepard or Grissom. In all my life as a reporter, I've never met a group of persons as bereft of jealousy, as free of covetousness, as cooperative and self-deprecating as these seven pioneers in the American space effort. It is conceivable that Slayton unluckily may never fly in orbit or toward the Moon and planets. Yet he always will be as much a part of that effort as the man or the men who go.

Baruch Ignores It
Bernard Baruch will be 92 this year. He will be among the few Americans who ignore that fact.

At his South Carolina retreat, the elder statesman rises shortly after seven a.m. and goes for a rousing swim in his pool. Then he breakfasts, reads his voluminous mail and the newspapers, and calls for his horse. Atop the horse, he follows his hounds into his own or rented game preserves, gun ready, and when the dogs freeze he dismounts—in swamp or on high ground—and prepares himself for the shoot.

After he has bagged his quota of quail he returns to the old house to clean up and for lunch, then a nap, then more work, then another swim, then cocktails, then dinner, then a session of canasta, and finally a look at a TV western.

That Piece Comes Back

We keep thinking about a piece we dreamed up years ago about a big rapport — temporary or sure—between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. The memory of it quickens in view of the bog-down of the Geneva talks, and the growing menace of Red China to both powers.

It was a fantasy having to do with an Angel who had taken part in the caroling over Bethlehem, some years ago. The Angel went to Christ with a peachy idea about settling all disputes on Earth. Hang out the old Star of Bethlehem, the Angel suggested, and that would bring every nation to its knees, in reverence.

Well, it didn't turn out quite that way. Everybody thought the Star was an enemy from outer space, attacking the world. And, so, the nations got together to defend the common Earth on which they lived. The U.S. and U.S.S.R. became allies again and concurred a super rocket and super bomb that destroyed the star. Darn near killed a freshly arrived tenor in the star's chorus, named Enrico Caruso. For a short time thereafter, however, all was serene, all was peaceful, until the nations found out that they could again go back to going their separate ways, and to their separate wars.

Wouldn't it be great if a star could be dropped over Geneva? Or the UN? And stay there? (Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)

QUOTES

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — American Ambassador to the U.N. Adlai Stevenson on Cuba's complaint to the Security Council that it had been illegally expelled from the Organization of American States:

"I think that what we are really facing is not a legal problem but a political effort to extend the Soviet veto over the Organization of American States through the Security Council."

MUNICH, Germany — Opera star Maria Callas, complaining too many people are more interested in her private life than her singing:

"It is a burden to live with fame. When one is famous one is quickly the victim of human curiosity."

Horoscope Forecast

By CARROL RIGHTER

Saturday, March 24, 1962

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a Saturday when you are determined to produce results of a very resourceful nature that require much planning. Be sure you get rid of whatever is in the way of such ambitions after you first decide what you really do want. Hold steady, however, to accomplish your aims in a very tactful, diplomatic manner this Saturday or some tense arguments can follow.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are equal to any demands made of you of an ethical nature during morning or afternoon, so be sure you show that you have a strong character and are fair. Then be happy in the evening with the one you love. Be generous, kind.

Taurus (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20) — Make it a point to get together informally with partners today and listen to what they have to suggest. This breaks the ice for more pleasant and profitable dealings in the future. Go out with loved one in P. M. — dinner first.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21) — Get Saturday chores done efficiently and don't neglect that political duty that will benefit fellow man. Take any health treatments you need in P. M. and see also that your clothing is in good order for the week ahead. Be tidy.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21) — Make sure you get out in the morning to get beauty or barber shop treatments you need. Then make this a gala evening at the social functions or other recreational activities that you really enjoy — not those that are only a duty.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21) — Here is one of those days when family duty comes first, so it is best to resign yourself to such willingly. You find you will enjoy it. Make sure you entertain at home, too, instead of stepping out on the town. Be good.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Fine morning for visiting or getting shopping done. Also, be a fine companion with those who accompany you. Evening is then ideal for enjoying yourself with bosom pals at whatever recreational activities inspire you. Be gay.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Be very certain you collect what is owed you and pay your bills this morning. However, try not to get out and splurge in P. M. — the inexpensive pleasures can be just as satisfying.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Make it a point to spruce up and show others that you can be a charming and jolly companion. Plan your recreation wisely for this evening and somewhat into the future as well. You take life too seriously — have fun tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Devote most of this day to getting surroundings in order and pleasing close ties. Be practical, kind and thoughtful. Straighten out any existing problems. Get out this evening for some quiet recreation that is pleasing.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Fine morning for shopping, writing, visiting, etc. Get rid of what is obsolete, buy whatever is necessary. Get out with good friends in P. M. and increase social contacts as well as favorite social pleasures. Be charming.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — It is important that you get certain important business affairs handled

Hospital in Benefit by Annual Luau

The annual Luau at Blue Skies trailer park was termed a success by a large gathering including several Hollywood personalities.

Designed this year as a fund-raising program for the new construction at the Desert Hospital, one of the co-chairmen of the drive, Movie Producer William Perleberg, was an honored guest. The program included a pool-side Hawaiian show complete with hula girls and knife dancers.

Featured in the show was Miss Hawaii of the Miss America contest, Delfin Thursday. Over 350 applauded her efforts and enjoyed a torch-light parade, roasted pig, fish and yams.

De Gaulle Continues Odd Diplomacy

By PHIL NEWSOM

PARIS (UPI)—If or when peace truly is restored to Algeria, President Charles de Gaulle will be able to give full sway to his dreams of "la grandeur de la France."

These are the dreams which, even as France lay prostrate in the midst of World War II caused Sir Winston Churchill and the late President Roosevelt to throw up their hands in despair.

They led Churchill to say that of all the crosses he had to bear the "Cross of Lorraine" which De Gaulle had made his symbol was the heaviest.

De Gaulle walked alone in those days of crisis and he walks alone in these days of crisis, his dream of French grandeur as enduring now as then.

Relations Strained

Partly as result of these dreams, peace in Algeria may be expected to see an increase in the strains which already exist between De Gaulle and his allies, particularly the United States.

De Gaulle is determined that French defenses depend only upon himself, and upon no alliances or single ally.

He is equally determined that French leadership in Western Europe reassert itself after 40 years of decline.

De Gaulle is determined that France shall have its own nuclear striking force and he is deeply angered by U. S. opposition.

A high French official made clear in strong language less than a month ago that Franco-U. S. relations would remain unsettled so long as the United States maintained its present position. The French demand equal treatment with the British as a nuclear nation.

While tradition and necessity bind the United States and France as allies, there are other deep differences between the two nations.

Opposed to U.N.

De Gaulle is contemptuous of the United Nations, which remains a keystone of U. S. foreign policy.

He has remained aloof from U. S. exploratory talks with the Soviet Union over Berlin, and he has boycotted the disarmament talks in Geneva.

For each of these actions he has similar reasons—that the Russians have shown no desire to settle problems which they themselves created, and that their only clear objective is to obtain a propaganda forum by which to influence or frighten world opinion.

But perhaps the deepest difference of all springs from his determination to build his own nuclear force, which meets opposition even within France.
